PRES. COOLIDGE TRANSMITS NATIONAL BUDGET

TOTAL REVENUES ESTIMATED
AT $3,824,530,203 FOR 1927

PROBABLE SURPLUS FOR 1927
WILL BE AT LEAST
$330,307,894.56

By WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Dec. 9.—The national budget for the fiscal year of 1927 transmitted to congress today by President Coolidge estimated total revenues of $3,824,530,203, total expenditures of $3,494,222,308.44 and a probable surplus of $330,307,894.56 for that year.

Revised estimates for the current fiscal year placed total revenues at $3,880,716,942, total expenditures at $3,618,675,186 and the probable surplus June 30 next at $262,041,755, a decrease of $89,082,244 below the surplus estimated by the president for that date a year ago, due to increased expenditures.

Counseling continued effort for economy, the president, in a message accompanying the document, said it had borne fruit, but added, "We have about reached the time when the legitimate business of government cannot be carried on at a less expenditure than that which it now requires. With regard to our legitimate business, the operating costs have been reduced to nearly a minimum."

"The effort for economy, however, must continue," said the president. "So far as it lies within the power of the chief executive, it will continue."

The message was notable for more comprehensive expression of the president's sentiments toward air-craft, prohibition, and government building than he made in his annual message to congress yesterday.

"This government is pursuing an orderly policy toward building up its air services," he said, announcing large appropriations for new air-craft construction. "If we continue this policy, there need be no fear of our national defense situation in so far as air strength is concerned."

SPIRIT MEDIUMS GET JAIL TERMS

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Because "Benny" and the "Captain" were barred from the court room, Harry and Dorothy Woods, spirit mediums, were incarcerated today in the Minneapolis work house.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods were arrested on a vagrancy charge when police raided their seance rooms. A police woman, posing as a widow, was there at the time receiving advice from "Benny" and the "Captain," trusty spirits invoked by the mediums, to dispose of her earthly possessions.

The spiritualists protested in court that only ectoplasmic witnesses could vindicate them and offered as their defense "loud speaker" communicated between the judge and the spirit world. The judge ruled "Benny" and the "Captain" incompetent witnesses and pronounced 30 and 90 day sentences upon their cosmic representatives.

VALIDITY OF STATE ORE TAX TESTED

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The U. S. Supreme court today devoted a second day to hearing arguments on the validity of the Minnesota ore tax, protested by iron and steel companies of that state. The court usually allows only two to four hours for arguing such cases.

Charles Evans Hughes was one of the attorneys for the iron and steel companies, which challenged the right of the state to exact a royalty or "rental" charge on all ore taken from the ground.

Many millions of dollars are involved in the contest. Hughes and his associates contended the tax is an arbitrary and unreasonable burden on the industry.

Brewery Permits Revoked

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Permits of all breweries in the Chicago district—Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin—will be revoked automatically December 31, according to an announcement made by E. C. Yellowley director of prohibition for this district.

By this order every brewer in the three states will be forced to cease operation temporarily on that date, he said.

All the breweries will be forced to apply for new permits and they will be issued under the most drastic regulations ever imposed on the manufacture of cereal beverages, he said. Director Yellowley confidently expects that this move will break the backbone of the liquor industry in the territory. He said that although he has no disposition to hinder legitimate business he is determined to stamp out "Kheating breweries."

BELIEVE CAPTURE OF MUKDEN BY LING IMMINENT

Tokio, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Telegraphic communication with Mukden has been shut off for 24 hours and it is believed the capture of the city by Gen. Kuo Sung Ling, enemy of the Mukden leader Chang Tso Lin, is imminent.

The Mukden war lord is reported to have fled to Kirin. Consuls at Mukden have officially requested the Japanese consul there to assume the task of protecting all foreigners.

FERVID LETTERS TO MATCH THE RHINELANDERS

INTRODUCED IN EVIDENCE AT TRIAL OF LOUIS
BRUEY

FATHER SHOT BOY ALLEGED IN-TIMATE WITH HIS DAUGHTER

Fairfield, Iowa, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Letters that match the fervid correspondence in the famous Rhinelander-Jones case of New York will be introduced in evidence in the trial of Louis Bruey who shot and killed Sam McNeese, 18, here last Saturday. It was made known today.

These letters, scores of them in a shoe box, were found among the lad's effects by his mother after the tragedy. They are signed "E. B." and presumably from Edna Bruey, 14 years old, the girl for whose alleged seduction Bruey, her father, shot the boy.

All the notes are addressed to Sam and he is called "Dear Hubby" throughout. Many references to other boys and girls, usually by initials, indicate that what was going on between her and the boy was common knowledge of others and it is believed that the reading of these notes at the trial will reveal other scandals.

In all the correspondence which seems to have begun Jan. 1, 1923, when the girl was but 12 years old, and to have ended Dec. 1, 1925, four days before the shooting, there is the frankest statement of relations, one of the earlier letters being illustrated by a crude drawing. Through the letters there is expressed the fear that the girl's father will discover the affair.

The letters really are crude notes, written on scratch paper at school, and one of them explains the difficulty of dodging the attention of the teacher and pupils around her.

Bruey, who surrendered to the sheriff following the murder, is at liberty on $15,000 bond. He will have a hearing on a charge of first degree murder tomorrow.

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Bank robbers who held up the Anoka, Minn., bank yesterday and escaped with $15,000, are believed to be hiding on a farm somewhere near the Twin Cities and police are making a search of the surrounding country.

St. Paul police were notified of the robbery yesterday soon after it occurred and guards were rushed to all the roads leading into Minneapolis and St. Paul. The towns around Anoka are also on the lookout for the bandits.

The same gang is believed responsible for the rifling of four banks in this district of a total loot of about $40,000.

FRENCH AND BRITISH AGREE ON ARMS PARLEY

OF NATIONS

MOSUL CONTROVERSY NOW IS ONLY MATTER NOT CLEAR-
ED UP

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Geneva, Dec. 9.—France and Great Britain today reached a full agreement on the program of the proposed 1926 League of Nations disarmament conference.

This agreement sought in two secret meetings of the league council, finally included an understanding on all points including a settlement of the two nations' disputes over the question of military contingents to be provided under the mutual assistance provisions of Article XVI of the League covenant.

This left the Mosul controversy practically the sole stumbling block before the council. This question, it was held, offers grave possibilities. Meantime, league men studied the message of President Coolidge to congress, reaching the conclusion that he was ready for American participation in a naval disarmament parley but not in a land conference.

President Coolidge's congressional message welcoming European efforts at disarmament was one of the deciding factors in enabling the British and French to reach the agreement on the conference program.

The message is still being studied by the council to enable the body to decide the precise nature of the invitation it will address the United States for collaboration in the conference work.

RHINELANDER JUROR MAKES CHARGE IN CASE

SAYS AN EYE SPECIALIST SPOKE TO HIM ABOUT THE CASE

OCCURRED ON THE SECOND DAY OF THE COURT
TRIAL

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(UP)—One of the jurors in the sensational Rhinelander trial today was directed to appear before the Westchester grand jury in connection with a conversation he is alleged to have had with a friend during the progress of the trial.

Frederick G. Sanford, juror number 4, of Yonkers, told Supreme Court Justice Morschauser that on the second day of the court trial Dr. J. C. Bennett, eye specialist, had spoken with him regarding the merits of the Rhinelander action.

"I gathered the impression that Dr. Bennett favors Rhinelander," Sanford said. "I gathered also that he was opposed to inter-racial marriages."

"This strikes at the foundations of justice," Morschauser said. "Bringing outside influences to bear must stop. I want jurors left alone."

Sanford was then directed to appear before the grand jury tomorrow.

Straw Vote on World Court
Minneapolis—Minnesota "U" polled a straw vote on United States entry into the world court. Of the 315 votes cast 280 were for the court in some form and 35 were opposed.

St. Paul — Governor Theodore Christianson, in a noon day luncheon of business men yesterday, urged the development of the inland waterways.

Child Saves Family From Suffocation
Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—A family of seven children was saved from suffocation today by the warning of a five-year-old child. The youngster felt ill and aroused his 18-year-old sister. She found five other members of the family already overcome. Mr. and Mrs. George Date, the parents, were not affected. The children will recover.

BRITISH FRONTIER GUARDS CLASH WITH DRUSE TRIBES

Jerusalem, Dec. 9.—(UP)—British frontier gendarmes have clashed with Druse tribesmen for the first time, according to reports here today. A band of tribesmen chased the French across the boundary line at Metullah Monday and refused to surrender their arms whereupon the British guards fired.

Several were wounded on both sides.

FIRE SWEEPS ROOMING HOUSE, 1 WOMAN DEAD

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—One woman is dead, three other persons probably fatally injured and six others seriously hurt as the result of a fire which swept a rooming house early today. The place was packed with lodgers and numerous leaps from second and third story windows and daring rescues featured the blaze.

The rooming house was in the near-loop district, midway between the Northwestern and Union stations.

Lawrence Saldina, 25, succumbed to burns at a hospital today, increasing the death list to two. One of four others seriously injured is not expected to live.

Despite efforts to revive her with a pulmotor, Mrs. Vivian, Rodriguez, 30, died at a hospital shortly after the fire.

CONGRESS IN SURVEY OF THE COOLIDGE MESSAGE

INCLINED TO GIVE HIM HIS WAY
ON MOST POINTS
STRESSED

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING AND MUSCLE SHOALS WILL BE CONTESTED

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Dec. 9.—Congress is inclined to give President Coolidge his way on the most important of 26 points he stressed in his program of legislation submitted in his message yesterday. The general reaction (although critical of some features) gave indications that a tax bill acceptable to him would be adopted; that the senate would ratify the world court proposal and that his moderate air defense improvement project would be accepted.

On two issues, however, there was an underlying dissatisfaction that bespoke a bitter fight—the issue of a co-operative marketing aid bill and sale of the government's big Muscle Shoals nitrate plants.

Upon the lesser issues of coal legislation, revision of the shipping board and railroad consolidation favorable consideration was promised by leaders and if the subjects are not acted upon as he desires, it will be because both houses do not have time to squeeze the projects in their lengthy calendars before mid-summer adjournment.

The farm bloc found the co-operative marketing feature objectionable because of its theory that the present trouble of the farmer is due to too much exploitation. What the farmer needs, they say, is a measure which will stabilize his prices.

Although the co-operative marketing bill will be introduced as drafted by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, it will be strenuously opposed and an effort will be made to substitute for it an indirect price fixing bill.

Democrats have already picked the Mitchell air defense program as a major party issue against the republicans. Senator Robinson, democratic floor leader, has announced that a unified air system is a national necessity second only to tax reduction.

The tax bill which Mr. Coolidge praised so highly will go through the house early next week in much the same shape it now is. In the senate it would be torn to pieces but the law which will finally be sent to him for signature will be a compromise between the house and senate.

On the world court, its adherents claim 78 votes, or 12 more than the necessary two-thirds to ratify American adherence.

Murder Charges Against Driver
Superior, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Jack Levinsky, former proprietor of the Chicken Shack, notorious cabaret is held under bond to Superior court today charged with murder.

Levinsky is held responsible for the deaths of Joseph McDonald and Lawrence Fitzpatrick, Cleveland Lake sailors, alleged to have been struck by Levinsky's automobile on Nov. 21. Both died from resulting injuries.

Manslaughter warrants have been preferred by authorities have been withdrawn and murder charges substituted.

ARRAIGNS OUR

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—More than 100,000 murderers are free in the United States today because American criminal courts are the worst in the civilized world, Dr. Charles F. Aked, of Los Angeles, said.

Butter Ordered Seized
Duluth, Dec. 9.—Two hundred pounds of butter made in Superior was ordered seized yesterday. The butter contained 30 per cent water. State law allows only 16 per cent of water. An attempt is being made to exclude inferior butter from the state.

NEW TAX BILL COMES UP IN THE HOUSE TODAY

RULES SUSPENDED IN ITS FAV-OR, DEBATE EX-
PEDITED

REPUBLICANS TO REPLY TO AT-TACKS MADE BY REP.
GARNER

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Dec. 9.—The new tax bill came up in the house today with rules suspended in its favor and leaders united to expedite debate.

Customarily every Wednesday is given over in the house to the consideration of calendar bills but so anxious are those handling the $325,000,000 tax reduction measure to put it through, in record-breaking time that they obtained a suspension of this custom.

Republican members of the ways and means committee were to reply today to attacks made on the bill yesterday by Rep. Garner, Texas, ranking democrat member of the committee. Garner insisted that the surtax rate should have been set at 25 per cent instead of 20 per cent and indicated that the republicans and democrats disagreed in committee on this levy.

Representative Ogden Mills, republican, New York, was elected as the first member of the majority to reply to Garner. Mills will contend that a twenty per cent surtax levy will net the government more revenue than any other surtax rate. To impose a higher rate, he will warn it will encourage those of great fortunes to resort to evasion of taxes by investments in tax-exempt securities.

TRY TO BRAND
MITCHELL AS A PLAGIARIST

ATTEMPT OF WAR DEPARTMENT
FAILS AT COURT
MARTIAL

COURT REFUSES TO HEAR TESTI-MONY ON THE SUB-
JECT

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Another attempt by the war department prosecution at the Mitchell court martial to brand Col. Mitchell as a plagiarist, failed today when the court refused to hear testimony purporting to bear on the subject.

The prosecution produced Captain Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N., submarine expert, who is the author of a printed lecture delivered in 1919 which, it charged, Mitchell embodies verbatim in his book "Winged Defense."

It asked that his testimony be admitted to shed light on Mitchell's character.

Col. Blanton Winslip, law officer of the court, however, ruled that the court was not trying Mitchell for plagiarism and the court sustained his recommendation that they refuse to hear the witness.

A previous attempt by the war department failed on the same grounds. After this flurry, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, was called by the prosecution to confront his former assistant, Col. Mitchell. He denounced many of Mitchell's charges against the air service.

SEVEN WITNESSES

BIRKELAND CASE

CORONER'S JURY IN SECRET SES-SION IN MINNE-
APOLIS

TESTIMONY IF DISCLOSED WOULD
"DEFEAT JUSTICE,"
CLAIMED

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Seven witnesses were heard yesterday by the coroner's jury, in secret session, investigating the death of Knute B. Birkeland, former pastor and business man, found dead in an apartment December 1. The testimony was confidential and if disclosed would "defeat justice," County Attorney Floyd B. Olson said.

Before the secret session, a newspaper reporter said he had found two cards on the body, one bearing the name of Birkeland and the other "Reynolds." The janitor said he had not seen "Mr. Reynolds."

The pathologist who made the post-mortem examination repeated that death was not natural, but if poison was used no trace of it remained to be detected.

2 INSURGENTS

LA FOLLETTE, JR., AND NYE ARE DISTURBING
FACTORS

G. O. P. COMMITTEE ON COMMIT-
TEES UNABLE TO REACH
DECISION

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The republican majority in the senate is deadlocked over what should be done with the two new "baby" insurgents in their ranks, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Unable to reach a decision, the republican committee on committees will delay a further meeting until Monday in the hope that some compromise may be reached on whether LaFollette should receive the favor of republican committee assignments.

In a similar deadlock the senate privileges and elections committee is adjourned until Friday, seeking more light on legality of Nye's appointment by Gov. Sorlie, North Dakota.

The pre-arranged plan of seating Nye and welcoming LaFollette has run into a stone wall since convincing legal arguments against Nye were submitted by Sen. Goff, republican, West Virginia and Former Assistant Attorney General and also since LaFollette attended insurgents conferences instead of the republican meetings last Saturday.

The extent of the deadlock is discernible in a vote on the LaFollette issue reported to have been taken by the committee on committees yesterday afternoon. It is reported that Sen. Wadsworth, New York, joined Senators Moses and McNary in favor of LaFollette. Against them were Senators Watson, Indiana, Ernst and Cameron.

INQUEST OVER
BODIES OF SEARS
AND LATIMER GIRL

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Although no additional clues have developed new light is expected to be shed on the mysterious slaying of James Sears and Madeline Latimer, near here Oct. 15, at the inquest which will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

The date for the inquest was set by Coroner Joseph Friend, who announced he had called a large number of witnesses.

Kenosha county officials and all those persons who had any connection with the finding of the two bodies will be called, Friend said.

ALIBI OFFERED
IN DEFENSE OF
GUNMAN MORAN

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—(UP)—An alibi was offered today in defense of Terry Moran, Chicago police character charged with participating in a $35,000 mail robbery at South St. Paul in April, 1924.

Introduction of defense testimony started with resumption of Moran's trial. Witnesses were placed on the stand to support the defense contention that Terry did not leave his rooming house the morning of the robbery until 10:30. The mail was taken at 9.

The defense also charged that Moran's confession secured by Denver police was induced by coercion.

2 MEN CHARGED
WITH BEING FUGITIVES

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 9.—(UP)—James King and J. H. Hill were arraigned before a police magistrate here today on a fugitive warrant issued on information that they are wanted in St. Croix county, Wisconsin, for robbery of the First National bank of Baldwin, December 3.

A. M. De Voursney, Milwaukee manager of the protective branch of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, arrived to question the prisoners. Meanwhile Sheriff M. C. Emerson, Hudson, St. Croix county, is reported at Madison, Wis., securing extradition papers.

The county official is expected here tomorrow to start proceedings for return of the two men. King and Hill refused to tell De Voursney whether they will fight extradition. Authorities here are continuing their investigation in an attempt to connect the two men with other robberies.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Congress is inclined to give President Coolidge his way on the most important of 26 points he stressed in his program of legislation submitted in his message yesterday. The general reaction (although critical of some features) gave indications that a tax bill acceptable to him would be adopted; that the senate would ratify the world court proposal and that his moderate air defense improvement project would be accepted.

On two issues, however, there was an underlying dissatisfaction that bespoke a bitter fight—the issue of a co-operative marketing aid bill and sale of the government's big Muscle Shoals nitrate plants.

Upon the lesser issues of coal legislation, revision of the shipping board and railroad consolidation favorable consideration was promised by leaders and if the subjects are not acted upon as he desires, it will be because both houses do not have time to squeeze the projects in their lengthy calendars before mid-summer adjournment.

The farm bloc found the co-operative marketing feature objectionable because of its theory that the present trouble of the farmer is due to too much exploitation. What the farmer needs, they say, is a measure which will stabilize his prices.

Although the co-operative marketing bill will be introduced as drafted by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, it will be strenuously opposed and an effort will be made to substitute for it an indirect price fixing bill.

Democrats have already picked the Mitchell air defense program as a major party issue against the republicans. Senator Robinson, democratic floor leader, has announced that a unified air system is a national necessity second only to tax reduction.

The tax bill which Mr. Coolidge praised so highly will go through the house early next week in much the same shape it now is. In the senate it would be torn to pieces but the law which will finally be sent to him for signature will be a compromise between the house and senate.

On the world court, its adherents claim 78 votes, or 12 more than the necessary two-thirds to ratify American adherence.

Child Saves Family From Suffocation
Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—A family of seven children was saved from suffocation today by the warning of a five-year-old child. The youngster fell ill and aroused his 18-year-old sister. She found five other members of the family already overcome. Mr. and Mrs. George Date, the parents, were not affected. The children will recover.

Butter Ordered Seized
Duluth, Dec. 9.—Two hundred pounds of butter made in Superior was ordered seized yesterday. The butter contained 30 per cent water. State law allows only 16 per cent of water. An attempt is being made to exclude inferior butter from the state.

NEW TAX BILL COMES UP IN THE HOUSE TODAY

RULES SUSPENDED IN ITS FAV-
OR, DEBATE EX-
PEDITED

REPUBLICANS TO REPLY TO AT-TACKS MADE BY REP.
GARNER

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 9.—The new tax bill came up in the house today with rules suspended in its favor and leaders united to expedite debate.

Customarily every Wednesday is given over in the house to the consideration of calendar bills but so anxious are those handling the $325,000,000 tax reduction measure to put it through, in record-breaking time that they obtained a suspension of this custom.

Republican members of the ways and means committee were to reply today to attacks made on the bill yesterday by Rep. Garner, Texas, ranking democrat member of the committee. Garner insisted that the surtax rate should have been set at 25 per cent instead of 20 per cent and indicated that the republicans and democrats disagreed in committee on this levy.

Representative Ogden Mills, republican, New York, was slated as the first member of the majority to reply to Garner. Mills will contend that a twenty per cent surtax levy will net the government more revenue than any other surtax rate. To impose a higher rate, he will warn it will encourage those of great fortunes to resort to evasion of taxes by investments in tax-exempt securities.

TRY TO BRAND
MITCHELL AS
A PLAGIARIST

ATTEMPT OF WAR DEPARTMENT
FAILS AT COURT
MARTIAL

COURT REFUSES TO HEAR TESTI-MONY ON THE SUB-
JECT

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Another attempt by the war department prosecution at the Mitchell court martial to brand Col. Mitchell as a plagiarist, failed today when the court refused to hear testimony purporting to bear on the subject.

The prosecution produced Captain Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N., submarine expert, who is the author of a printed lecture delivered in 1919 which, it charged, Mitchell embodied verbatim in his book "Winged Defense." It asked that his testimony be admitted to shed light on Mitchell's character.

Col. Blanton Winslip, law officer of the court, however, ruled that the court was not trying Mitchell for plagiarism and the court sustained his recommendation and they refuse to hear the witness.

A previous attempt by the war department failed on the same grounds. After this flurry, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, was called by the prosecution to confront his former assistant, Col. Mitchell. He denounced many of Mitchell's charges against the air service.

Murder Charges Against Driver
Superior, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Jack Levinsky, former proprietor of the Chicken Shack, notorious cabaret is held under bond to Superior court today charged with murder.

Levinsky is held responsible for the deaths of Joseph McDonald and Lawrence Fitzpatrick, Cleveland Lake sailors, alleged to have been struck by Levinsky's automobile on Nov. 21. Both died from resulting injuries.

Manslaughter warrants first preferred by authorities have been withdrawn and murder charges substituted.

ARRAIGNS OUR
CRIMINAL COURTS,
'WORST IN WORLD'

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—More than 100,000 murderers are free in the United States today because American criminal courts are the worst in the civilized world, Dr. Charles F. Aked, of Los Angeles, said.

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS IN ALBANIA FLOODS

Durazzo, Albania, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Hundreds are homeless as a result of floods which swept over Scutari, a town of 20,000 inhabitants.

A large part of the city is under water. The government is sending supplies to the stricken area and has appropriated funds for relief work.

Many are believed to be dead. The Albanian parliament has adjourned as a sign of mourning.

FARM BUREAU LEADERS ARE AFTER HARMONY

ATTEMPT THROUGH RESOLU-TIONS TO SOLIDIFY THE ORGANIZATION

GRAM CAN BE ADOPTED

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Leaders of the American Farm Bureau Federation today attempted through the adoption of resolutions to solidify the organization and to bring harmony out of the maelstrom of discontent that appeared in matters of policy.

Bitter debate over the adoption of resolutions seemed certain but those who have been guiding the Federation hope that peace will finally triumph so that a militant program can be carried out with full co-operation of all members. Differences of opinion, long lurking under cover were brought to the surface by public expressions on the address that President Coolidge delivered on Monday. While one group of Federation members endorsed the president's stand on the tariff and price fixing, another group opposed Mr. Coolidge on both issues.

Sen. Arthur Capper, Kansas, addressing the Federation last night, praised the president's speech on all matters save the tariff. Whereas Mr. Coolidge expressed satisfaction with the present tariff as an aid to farmers, Capper declared that should be made to apply to agricultural surplus.

On two matters of policy the Farm Bureau Federation appeared united. They are co-operative marketing and reduction of freight rates in the middle west.

The convention was expected to close this evening after election of officers and adoption of resolutions.

Creameries Flourishing
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Division of more than $100,000 in extra dividends will be made by the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association Jan. 2, it was announced here today by John Brandt, president.

The money to be returned over to member creameries represents savings on $1,500,000 worth of creamery supplies furnished by the association, Brandt said. The $100,000 is in addition to profits from sale of members' products.

The annual meeting of the association is to be held in Minneapolis in March.

SEVEN WITNESSES HEARD IN THE
BIRKELAND CASE

CORONER'S JURY IN SECRET SES-SION IN MINNE-
APOLIS

TESTIMONY IF DISCLOSED WOULD
"DEFEAT JUSTICE,"
CLAIMED

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Seven witnesses were heard yesterday by the coroner's jury, in secret session, investigating the death of Knute B. Birkeland, former pastor and business man, found dead in an apartment December 1. The testimony was confidential and if disclosed would "defeat justice," County Attorney Floyd B. Olson said.

Before the secret session, a newspaper reporter said he had found two cards on the body, one bearing the name of Birkeland and the other "Reynolds." The janitor said he had not seen "Mr. Reynolds."

The pathologist who made the post-mortem examination repeated that death was not natural, but if poison was used no trace of it remained to be detected.

AT SEA WHAT TO DO WITH 2 INSURGENTS

LA FOLLETTE, JR., AND NYE ARE DISTURBING

G. O. P. COMMITTEE ON COMMIT-
TEES UNABLE TO REACH
DECISION

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The republican majority in the senate is deadlocked over what should be done with the two new new "baby" insurgents in their ranks, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Unable to reach a decision, the republican committee on committees will delay a further meeting until Monday in the hope that some compromise may be reached on whether LaFollette should receive the favor of republican committee assignments.

In a similar deadlock the senate privileges and elections committee is adjourned until Friday, seeking more light on legality of Nye's appointment by Gov. Sorlie, North Dakota.

The pre-arranged plan of seating Nye and welcoming LaFollette has run into a stone wall since convincing legal arguments against Nye were submitted by Sen. Goff, republican, West Virginia and Former Assistant Attorney General and also since LaFollette attended insurgents conferences instead of the republican meetings last Saturday.

The extent of the deadlock is discernible in a vote on the LaFollette issue reported to have been taken by the committee on committees yesterday afternoon. It is reported that Sen. Wadsworth, New York, joined Senators Moses and McNary in favor of LaFollette. Against them were Senators Watson, Indiana, Ernst and Cameron.

INQUEST OVER
BODIES OF SEARS
AND LATIMER GIRL

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Although no additional clues have developed new light is expected to be shed on the mysterious slaying of James Sears and Madeline Latimer, near here Oct. 15, at the inquest which will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

The date for the inquest was set by Coroner Joseph Friend, who announced he had called a large number of witnesses.

Kenosha county officials and all those persons who had any connection with the finding of the two bodies will be called, Friend said.

ALIBI OFFERED
IN DEFENSE OF
GUNMAN MORAN

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—(UP)—An alibi was offered today in defense of Terry Moran, Chicago police character charged with participating in a $35,000 mail robbery at South St. Paul in April, 1924.

Introduction of defense testimony started with resumption of Moran's trial. Witnesses were placed on the stand to support the defense contention that Terry did not leave his rooming house the morning of the robbery until 10:30. The mail was taken at 9.

The defense also charged that Moran's confession secured by Denver police was induced by coercion.

2 MEN CHARGED WITH BEING FUGITIVES

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 9.—(UP)—James King and J. H. Hill were arraigned before a police magistrate here today on a fugitive warrant issued on information that they are wanted in St. Croix county, Wisconsin, for robbery of the First National bank of Baldwin, December 3.

A. M. De Voursney, Milwaukee manager of the protective branch of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, arrived to question the prisoners. Meanwhile Sheriff M. C. Emerson, Hudson, St. Croix county, is reported at Madison, Wis., securing extradition papers.

The county official is expected here tomorrow to start proceedings for return of the two men. King and Hill refused to tell De Voursney whether they will fight extradition.

Authorities here are continuing their investigation in an attempt to connect the two men with other robberies.

of today, careless, carefree and extremely thoughtless.

"How many boys stop to think of the sacrifice their dads made to put them through college?" asks de Mille the producer.

"How many of these indulged youths of today realize the dreams their fathers have been having about their careers when they 'come back home' from college?"

"Not many and so in this light comedy Neil Hamilton has done many things. He has portrayed in the early portion a characteristic college boy, bubbling over with good spirits, cigarette smoke and bills. His dad is an after-thought. Pleasure is the thing of the moment... but the most important thing."

This cocksure young man is given a sudden jolt by his clever dad who sees what his boy is headed for. The way in which Neil "Pays the price" is very droll, very human and while there are plenty of laughs, there are many queer feelings around one's conscience as he sees it.

Bessie Love, the girl Neil falls madly in love with, is all that has ever been said about her. There is only one diminutive Bessie Love who is so adorable and so feminine. She is the sort of girl, in this picture, who re-creates faith in the younger set.

Phyllis Haver completes the trio of players featured in the production.

There will be the picture "New Brooms" and also local talent in vaudeville. An active ticket selling campaign is now under way and the juniors of the high school look for large attendance at the New Park Thursday. However, for the juniors to share in the percentage, they must make the ticket sales themselves. What is bought at the theatre box office does not help the juniors a bit.

Neil Hamilton will give every young man who sees him in "New Brooms" a distinct shock. It's because he pictures the typical youth of today, careless, carefree and extremely thoughtless.

"How many boys stop to think of the sacrifice their dads made to put them through college?" asks de Mille the producer.

"How many of these indulged youths of today realize the dreams their fathers have been having about their careers when they 'come back home' from college?"

"Not many and so in this light comedy Neil Hamilton has done many things. He has portrayed in the early portion a characteristic college boy, bubbling over with good spirits, cigarette smoke and bills. His dad is an after-thought. Pleasure is the thing of the moment... but the most important thing."

This cocksure young man is given a sudden jolt by his clever dad who sees what his boy is headed for. The way in which Neil "Pays the price" is very droll, very human and while there are plenty of laughs, there are many queer feelings around one's conscience as he sees it.

Bessie Love, the girl Neil falls madly in love with, is all that has ever been said about her. There is only one diminutive Bessie Love who is so adorable and so feminine. She is the sort of girl, in this picture, who re-creates faith in the younger set.

Phyllis Haver completes the trio of players featured in the production.

Duets were sung by the Misses Gladys Engbretson and Violet Hosten, and Misses Hannah Johnson and Borghild Olson. Anton Gilbertson, chairman of the board of deacons, spoke, as the oldest member of the church. The main address of the evening was given by Rev. O. L. Following this program, Carl Anderson spoke the words of presentation to the pastor, and presented him with a gift of gold, and also addressed a few remarks to Mrs. Michaelson, mother of the pastor, presenting her with a large bouquet of roses. Rev. Michaelson responded for himself and his mother, stating that he had long felt the sincere welcome of his people.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"BOYS WILL BE BOYS"

This easy, color-blind, vagrant of a proverb has been cited for generations as a defense for the recklessness and foolishness of youth. It ignores the fact that the harvest of wild oats is always rag-weed. It is nearer the truth to say "Boys will be men."

The boy is father to the man. He must not be allowed to handicap the man who is to be through the indulgence of the boy who is.

There is nothing more pathetic than the sight of a man shackled to wasteful and vicious habits whose chains of slavery were forged during the year of youthful ignorance or wilfulness.

Play is the work of childhood. The boy who never learns to play fairly, honestly and enthusiastically will become a worker incompetent, distrusted and first fired.

The child is unprepared to make his decisions on difficult and complicated problems of social behaviour, life-investment and religion. He lacks the perspective that experience gives. This perspective his parent must provide.

Allowing a child to reach his decisions without helpful guidance or influence is as criminal as allowing him to mature without the necessary food to insure a well developed body.

There is a difference between allowing a child to develop his own personality and allowing him to enslave himself to his passions.

No boy is better for having been bad.

No man is stronger because he was once unmanned.

We must protect the men who are to be from the boys who are!

GOES TO MINOT

To Attend the Annual District Council of the Gospel Assembly Next Week

Rev. H. H. Ness pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly of Brainerd will leave for Minot, N. D., next Monday to attend their annual district council meeting. He is going as a representative of the local Assembly and this district. Wonderful prayers have been the fruits of the efforts put forth by the pastor and his members. Series of special meetings have been held and a great many conversions have taken place. Rev. Ness, was a representative for the Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) before entering into the ministry and he still maintains that its gasoline is the best on the market and that the Standard Oil Co. is a good company to work for, but that is not sufficient to bring one to heaven.

REV. H. H. NESS

Rev. Ness was a very active Christian worker in the Twin Cities among various churches, at street meetings, jail and hospital services. He left his good position to put his full time in Gospel work. He feels Brainerd is in need of a great spiritual revival in all of its churches and that it is time to cut out all their chicken dinners, oyster stews and candy sales and get down on their knees and pray. "Pastors who have to put on all those things and include shows and plays on their program as a substitute for Christ are admitting their own weakness and lack of faith," said Rev. Ness.

While in Minot he will make arrangements for more special meetings to be held at the Full Gospel Assembly right after the holidays. The meetings will be advertised in the Brainerd Dispatch from time to time.

Rev. Ness will speak next Sunday at 3 p. m. on the subject "The Church and the Churches," and at 7:45 p. m. on "Be Sure Your Sin Will Find You Out."

Three Boys Received Second Class Badges, 8 Received First Class Badges

The court of honor of the Boy Scouts held Saturday at Crosby was attended by about 75 people. The meeting was in charge of H. I. Pearl, chairman of the court of honor, O. M. Wanvig, J. Van Evera, John Lindahl, G. F. Heck.

The boys started out in the afternoon for a hike and went about five miles, thoroughly enjoying the brisk cold and snowy December day. They packed their grub along and ate supper in the open. Thirty-one boys went on the hike with two scout masters, John Elide and Frank Wenger of the Ironton-Deerwood Troop, returning about 7 o'clock to the school house where prizes were awarded. There were 11 scouts from Aitkin, including Scout Master V. R. Hauge.

Three boys received second class badges, eight received first class badges, six of these being from Aitkin.

After the awarding of prizes, Mr. Wanvig was called upon and he introduced Mr. van Evera who gave a very interesting talk on the worth-whileness of being a scout.

The Brainerd court of honor will be held Wednesday evening, December 9th at 8 o'clock at the court house.

PRICE FIXING

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has reaffirmed his stand against price fixing of products, especially of farm products. True, that may be the proper stand in a general survey of the economic situation.

But President Reed of the Minnesota State Farm Bureau enunciated the principle of price fixing when he spoke at the Brainerd meeting of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau. Here is the argument of President Reed:

"It is essential for farmers to organize—not to attain an advantage, but to meet all other groups in our industrial life that are now organized. There are many things that will tend to help the present agricultural situation, but the one thing that agriculture must have in order to cope with other groups is an equality before the law. Some means must be attained by law to handle the exportable surplus of American farms that it will not entirely govern the price of the product going into domestic consumption. Brazil has done this for their coffee growers, the British colonies have done this for their producers of rubber, and some way must be developed by law that will do this for the American farmers."

The rubber fixed price will touch every American car owner. We will all pay tribute to England and the colonies. And every one knows how Brazil now rules the coffee market. While we set our faces against price fixing on a large scale, the housewife encounters it every day when she uses coffee, and dad and the whole family bump into it when the flivver starts its wearing out of the tires, and a new set conforming to the English fixed prices, must be acquired.

Said President Coolidge: "Farmers themselves do not wish to have meddling on the part of the government or to be placed under the inevitable restrictions involved in any system of direct or indirect price fixing, which would result from permitting the government to operate in the agricultural markets."

During the world war our farmers faced a combined front of allies who were in a fair way of compelling our farmers to face a single purchasing agency. It looked as though we were to face a certain wheat price and if we failed to accept, then we lost that market. The government, sensing the situation, set a price on wheat locally and that in turn governed the foreign market.

We never believed in this price fixing, but that coffee business of Brazil and the rubber business of England and its colonies has been an eye opener. We don't believe in universal price fixing, but some protection should be accorded the American farmer on a standard crop of the world importance of coffee or rubber, something in which we have a practical monopoly. Great caution must be exercised to determine what the crop shall be, or the government will fall into a slough if it backs the wrong commodity and faces too much opposition or competition.

MINNESOTA, THE YEAR-ROUND STATE

MINNESOTA is rapidly gaining fame as a summer resort state, says the Minneapolis Star editorially, and continues:

The call of the Ten Thousand Lakes is heard everywhere and from the wide world come travelers in automobiles and by train to play here.

They begin to arrive when the bass and trout season opens in the spring and they continue through the summer, swimming, boating and motoring throughout the northern wilderness. In the fall comes another army composed mostly of the hunters seeking ducks and deer.

But in the winter when Minnesota is transformed into a brilliant white paradise even Minnesotans seem far from sold upon the delights of the state and attempt to put the soft pedal on the fact that we have snow and ice in his country.

To the traveler who comes prepared for excessive cold weather, Minnesota winters seem far from extreme. It is only to the southerner or easterner who arrives here with spats and a derby hat that Minnesota seems cold.

There should be established in northern Minnesota somewhere within easy motoring distance of the Twin Cities a great resort for all winter sports. (Establish it in the Brainerd Lake Region, we might suggest to the Star.)

There should be tobogganing, skating, skiing, hockey, la crosse, bob-sled coasting, sleighing, ice boating and the like. There should be fishing through the ice, dog sledding and reindeer sleighing if these things can be developed here or imported for the occasion. This will bring people here in winter for a good time and help to dissipate the idea that the season is one long blizzard.

Minneapolis has been using bad psychology in regard to its cold weather. You can't kid the world into believing that there is anything tropic about February in this country and the thing to do is to capitalize the ideal winter weather we have here then. After the well-to-do people have gone to California and Florida to live they will soon be hunting Minnesota in the winter time as well as in the summer for a real bracing breath of air.

THE NYE APPOINTMENT

WHEN Governor Sorlie of North Dakota appointed Nye U. S. Senator, his action produced a world of discussion. And it hasn't been settled either when Nye sought to take his seat in the senate.

There it passed into the hands of the election committee. The point argued now is whether Nye is a state officer or federal officer. Senator Goff of West Virginia claims that a member of congress is a federal officer and as such the law of North Dakota gives the governor no right to appoint a senator to fill a vacancy.

Following the death of Senator Nelson, the state of Minnesota faced the same situation. On one side Governor Preus was sought to make an appointment, but he eventually decided in favor of an election.

The question should be definitely settled by the senate and its decision will then serve as a precedent.

The GOLDEN RULE in PRACTICE
PLAIN LIVING AND HIGH THINKING

By CHARLES V. VICKREY
General Secretary of the Near East Relief

THE GOLDEN RULE is a universal creed. Everybody accepts it. Most people try to practice it.

Golden Rule Sunday is examination day—a day of plain living and high thinking; of self-measurement by the Golden Rule to see how big we really are.

Golden Rule Sunday comes midway between the feasts of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

On Thanksgiving Day we satisfy ourselves with good things. We survey our broad acres, bulging granaries, and busy factories. We re-appraise our unprecedented and soaring wealth of more than three hundred billion dollars, far transcending anything previously or elsewhere known in all the world. Not least are we thankful for government under which life and property are safe. Truly no people ever had as great reason for gratitude as have we in America on Thanksgiving Day, 1925.

At Christmas we again indulge in feasting and mirth, and share some of our luxuries with relatives and friends, some of whom are sore perplexed to know where to store the gifts that we pour into their well provided homes.

But on Golden Rule Sunday we express our gratitude and practice "pure religion undefiled before God" in a more vital way by considering "the fatherless and widows in their affliction" who, as worthy as we, by the vicissitudes of war, are bereft of everything. They have no lands, no granaries, no bank accounts, no savings, no employment, no homes, no food, except as the Golden Rule proves a vital reality in their lives.

It is proposed that on Golden Rule

Sunday, all persons who are disposed to make a practical application of the Golden Rule, provide for their Sunday dinner approximately the same menu that is provided, when funds permit, by Near East Relief for the tens of thousands of orphaned children in its care, most of whom are under twelve years of age.

Having partaken of the orphanage meal and entered into fellowship with the children overseas, we are asked to make such provision for them for the 365 days of the year as we should like to have made for ourselves, or for our children, if conditions were reversed.

Golden Rule Sunday will be observed throughout the United States in December, on behalf of the Near East Relief. This series of articles, by prominent public men who are supporters and spokesmen for this great philanthropy, is designed to call public attention to the background and purpose of the work and its need for general support.

To Editor Brainerd Dispatch, City.

I beg to send you weekly service bulletin issued by St. Cloud Credit Association of St. Cloud, defending new custom of using Christmas trees for street decorations. A. L. Hoffman, Secretary Business Men's Association.

The bulletin follows:
THANKS TO THE LEGION. Thanks to the American Legion St. Cloud will be a real Christmas city this year, to the greater joy of everybody. The story of what the Legion has done is well expressed—and the thanks of the community to the Legion are well expressed—in an editorial which appeared in the Journal Press on December 4th as follows:

"The local American Legion post has on many occasions given positive evidence of its helpful spirit. A year ago it conceived the idea of having the business streets properly decorated during the Christmas days, with evergreen trees, illuminated during the evening hours with electric lights. The experiment was so much of a success that the boys have decided to make it an annual event, and this year they have procured larger and handsomer trees and when these are given their decking, of colored lights will produce a beautiful effect."

"All that the merchants are asked is to see that the trees are properly decorated. Many contributed to this cost last year, and only those are expected to assist in this lighting this year who did not help a year ago. It is not expected there is a single merchant in the city who will not very willingly join in this Christmas spirit of making the business streets beautiful."

"The city commissioners are doing their full share and will provide the cost of the decorating of the large corner trees."

"Thanks, appreciation and co-operation are due the Legion boys for their good work. It is especially significant that they who went to war at the call of their government and of humanity, are the first to give a proper setting to the anniversary of the Prince of Peace."

"Merry Christmas to them all."

Does Your Loud Speaker Say
"Ess" or "Eth"

The usual garbling of sound by loud speakers is overcome by the new Grebe "Colortone"

THE sounds that come from the Synchronphase are independent of loud speaker control. The proper adaptation of speaker to set is no longer necessary for satisfactory reception.

By means of the Grebe "Colortone" you can vary, to your taste, the quality or timbre of voice or music from high, thin pitch to low, deep, round tones. You can also bring out low tones that would otherwise be inaudible, and eliminate, to a great degree, hissing sounds and the usual form of scratchy static—"S" sounds like "S" and "H" like "H". In the Synchronphase, artificiality of sound—the bane of radio reception—gives place to true, natural tones.

Add to this Grebe development, other exclusive Grebe features, and you get in the Synchronphase, radio reception unapproached in quality. Consider, for example: The "Selective Sensitivity" conferred by Grebe Binocular Coils. One-dial operation. Because of the Flexible Unit Control, one dial operates two or all three dials (they can also be set separately). Ease in accurate tuning by means of Grebe S-L-F Condensers on whose dials all stations have equal spacing. Complete, continuous range of volume, without change in naturalness of sound through the Grebe Volume Control.

GOOD IN MINDING ONE'S OWN BUSINESS

Blessed Are Those Who Re- frain From Meddling.

The other night I picked up a book of the writings of one of the uplifters. He is a sort of a journalistic shouter. A revivalist who does his work through the printed page. He told his readers what success is and how to attain it and how we all should be a little better and brighter and more earnest and helpful than we are—

Shucks! That stuff has just as much relation to ordinary human life as the vegetation on the crest of Mount Everest has to the climate in Missouri! He was too bright and good for human nature's daily food. He wanted his readers to get out and consciously exert an influence. They were all to be leaders in their community. They were to stand up bravely for the right and bear witness in the market place. More shucks! writes J. P. in the Kansas City Star.

Only now and then a Savonarola or a Luther or a Calvin or an Ignatius Loyola is born. They were great men. Great leaders. They had something to say and they were able to say it in a way that commanded—not merely demanded—the attention of their generation. Each age, each year, almost each day, produces such a man, who differs only in degree from the Luthers of yesterday. But you and I—John Pilgrim and John Smith—do not belong with them.

It does not seem desirable for me to tell my neighbor that he is going to ruin or to admonish his daughter or shake my head at his wife. Maybe I'm wrong, but it seems to me that if John Pilgrim and John Smith mind their own business and mind it well they are doing as much as the Supreme Power will demand. If we are always honest and always tell the truth. If we do not gossip and are not mean-spirited and always try to be fair. If we are kind to others and try to help and do not believe evil reports too easily. And if we refuse to be talked into the belief that black is white—

It seems to me that we will be doing a great deal more for our street than a good many of the leaders are doing. Some of the leaders, between us, do not lead. Unless a sounding board is the equivalent of a crusader.

Diver Had Lively Time

Fighting a lobster of huge proportions 90 feet below the surface of the North sea was the experience of a German diver, who was experimenting with below-seas radio broadcasting equipment. Listeners in Hamburg, 100 miles away; Bremen, Hanover and even in Berlin heard his account of this battle even while it was in progress, 90 feet below the surface of the North sea. The diver related how a big lobster swam toward him, and when he attempted to grab it the giant crustacean gave him battle with its great scissor-like claws, which seized his hand so forcibly that he felt an excruciating pain in spite of his thick rubber gloves. The diver also described an eel which he watched swallowing smaller fish. He saw swarms of fish, frightened, darting to and fro and looking like flocks of swallows.

Arab Proved Human Fish

On April 13, 1887, an Arab pearl diver remained under seven fathoms of water for 100 seconds.

Miniature Holy Land

One of the most unusual exhibits ever shown in Canada, and one that has attracted attention from one end of the Dominion to the other, is the display of a miniature Holy Land in Edmonton. This miniature was manufactured by Ganci brothers, two Sicilians, who worked for more than eleven years in their home in Edmonton on the exhibit. It includes 60,000-000 pieces and has 900 moving figures. Biblical scenes in amazing detail are reproduced in miniature. The exhibit is to be shown throughout Canada and the United States.

Progressive German City

The celebrated old university town of Heidelberg has set the pace among German cities in its efforts to solve housing conditions. During the last three years the city has erected 1,500 municipally-owned houses and has provided an additional 1,000 single rooms by partitioning off garrets. The houses have been constructed almost without exception on the quadrangle plan, with the interior square made into park and playground. Each quadrangle accommodates from fifteen to twenty-five families.

Favor Light Garb

In spite of the general criticism of the dress of the modern woman there are many doctors who advocate it on the score of health. Dr. Leonard Hill, member of the British Institute of Medical Research, blames many ills of his sex on the tight collars, tight belts, long trousers and heavy coats that men wear, declaring that women obtain more of the health-giving ultra-violet rays by their use of low-necked houses, short skirts and thin stockings.

Snake Fares Well in Japan

While laborers were at work in the grounds of the imperial palace in Tokyo, they came across a live snake, so large that they first believed it was a log and started to move it. The reptile came to life and the workmen scattered. However, they could have done nothing anyway, as the court officials ordered that the crawler not be needlessly disturbed and they emphatically declared there would be no snake hunt. The snake, Japanese believe, is the spirit of the ancient fortress that was once on the site where it was found, and if let alone will harm no one.

The Navajo

The leading tribe of the southern division of the Athapaskan stock of North American Indians was the Navajo or Tennial, which was the name used by themselves. Since first known they have occupied the land on and south of the San Juan river, in northern New Mexico and Arizona, and extending into the states of Colorado and Utah. They were surrounded on all sides by the cognate Apache tribes, except on the north, where they met the tribes of the Schoshonean family. At present the Navajo are on the reservation bearing their name in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

New Egg-Drying Process

Chemical advance has now developed a process, already in commercial use, whereby large numbers of eggs can be kept for indefinite periods without the use of cold storage or preservatives, and which, it is said, will have a material effect upon the seasonal egg markets of the country. The new process produces perfectly dried eggs in the form of a powder. They will keep indefinitely and can be used for almost any form of cooking.

Tagging the Trees

A western dealer furnishes red tags to hunters which carry on one side a plea for clean sportsmanship, says Good Housekeeping.

These tags are taken out by hunters and tied on the trees. The reverse side may be used by the hunter on which to write a message.

If the hunter is to meet a friend in the woods, and game lures him away from the spot, he leaves a red tag making new plans for the meeting.

The farmers, too, appreciate the message which the card carries in the interest of their fences and woods.

Lithuanian Amber

Lithuania produces more than three-fourths of the world's amber. Every bride has her bit of amber, every newborn child receives a piece, and its presence in every household shows the notice attached to it.

Easily Wed in Siberia

Marriage in Siberia is only a matter of taking out a license to wed; divorce is equally easy.

Niccolo Porpora, native of Naples, is said to have been the greatest singing master that ever lived. He was the instructor of many of the famous singers of the early part of the eighteenth century.

MOOSEHEART

The children at Mooseheart are organized into one large, happy family; an aggregation of children who know each other, like each other, work and play, and live a common life.

The children are admitted from birth, and in some instances the mother, whose husband has passed away; has gone to Mooseheart and given birth to her child.

The children remain at Mooseheart until they have received a high school education and a trade, before they go out into the world in competition with others.

These children are never "farmed out." The families are kept together until after graduation.

Every child must graduate in some trade or vocation. Every child has a bank account in the "Students' Bank," operated solely for the education and instruction of the students, and all bills are paid by check.

The children are governed by the laws of the Assembly, a self-governing body of which each student is a member. The actions of the Assembly are guided and supervised by the Superintendent.

One thing in particular in which Mooseheart differs from all other institutions in the world is its success in the training, development and government of the children, notwithstanding that more than twelve hundred are housed in one village in small family groups, each having its own kitchen, dining-room and general family life. Eventually Mooseheart, with its beautiful lake and bordered by the Fox River and Lincoln Highway, has the prospect of developing into a city of 5,000 children living on 5,000 acres of the richest soil of the Illinois prairie.

Corporal punishment is not tolerated at Mooseheart. If a child is found guilty of a misdemeanor sufficiently serious to warrant punishment, he or she is reprimanded and denied some of the pleasures for a specific length of time, according to nature of the misdemeanor.

Certain members of the Order have subscribed to a "Revolving Fund" for the benefit of those students who desire to continue their education by availing themselves of a college or university course after they have completed their training at Mooseheart. The money is loaned to these students out of the "Revolving Fund" and paid back at the convenience of the student.

The Mooseheart-Moosehaven Extension Fund Where This Extensive Service Originated

James Geraghty, Dist. Supervisor.

What is the extension? Why should I contribute to this fund? What will the money be used for?

The Mooseheart-Moosehaven Extension Fund is to be used to take care of members of the Moose and their families in cases where they could not go to Mooseheart or Moosehaven. For example:

Brother J. S., a member of ———, Tennessee Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, died, leaving a widow and five small children. Joe was a hard working man. He had been a member of the local Lodge for about eleven years. Joe wanted a home so he contracted with a real estate firm for a lot, paying $5.00 per month. That was all he could spare each month as it took just about all he could earn to support his family; but he wanted a home of his own where his children could play out doors in the bright sunshine and breathe the fresh air, so he bought some lumber and after his day's toil in the shop he would go to his lot and work on the new home until dark. Finally he had a building erected. It was only about twenty-five feet long, sixteen feet wide and twelve feet high. Only one big room, but to Joe it was a home. His home. So he moved his family into the new home; but Joe was overdone. He was taken sick and in a few days had passed to the great beyond, leaving a widow and five small children, but they had no funds to live on. The lot was not paid for. Two of the children were sub-normal. What was the mother to do? She couldn't take the five children to Mooseheart as the laws of the Loyal Order of Moose will not allow any sub-normal children to Mooseheart. She could send the two unfortunate little ones to the state institution and take the other three to Mooseheart, but Mrs. S., like any other mother, loved the two little ones and felt that if she could only keep them with her that they would eventually get well, and would not part with them. But she could not keep the children and live without some money coming in and it took all of her time to look after the children. What was she to do? She couldn't go out and earn money. Finally she appealed to the secretary of the Moose Lodge. He told her that he would see what he could do. The Secretary and Dictator went to Mooseheart, met Brother James F. Davis, our Director General, and Rodney H. Brandon, Secretary of the Executive Committee, and put the case to them. Brother Davis said, "We will make this an Extension Fund case. The Mooseheart and Moosehaven Extension Fund is for just such cases." Then he told them to go back to their lodge. Get carpenters, have that shack that J. S. built made into a nice cottage. Buy lumber. Partition the shack. Make it into a three-room cottage. Build a kitchen onto the back. Put a porch on the front. Paint it. Fix it up so that it will be as pretty and comfortable as any cottage in Memphis. Appoint a committee of five to look after Mrs. S. and the children. Get the minister of their church, the head of the school in their district, the alderman of the ward, the head of the Welfare society, and you, Brother Secretary, act as chairman of this committee. The Mooseheart and Moosehaven Extension will pay the $5.00 per month that Joe had agreed to pay.

Also pay for the lumber to fix up the cottage. Pay the carpenters and painters. The minister will see that the children go to church and Sunday School. The members of the School Board will see that the children attend school. The alderman and welfare worker will see that the children are properly fed and clothed, and you Brother Secretary will receive from the Extension Fund $100 per month to be used to buy the things that Mrs. S. and family need. If you find that $100 will not give this family all they need, let us know and the Extension will furnish more. Go back home and tell Mrs. S. that we will not separate her from her children but that we will do all in our power to help keep her family intact.

The Dictator and Secretary returned home and carried out the orders of our Director General, Brother James F. Davis, and today Mrs. S. and children live in their own home; as pretty a bungalow as can be found in that city. Has her children with her and the Secretary gives her $100 per month to live on and she is happy.

This is what the Mooseheart and Moosehaven Extension dollar is doing and the above is only one of several cases. We do not know how soon our Lodge will have a case, so when you pay your dues just add one more dollar for the Mooseheart and Moosehaven Extension Fund.

Mooseheart Extension service is a new feature to care for dependent members and their families who for some reason or other do not go to Mooseheart or Moosehaven.

The charter of the Brainerd Lodge, L. O. O. M., is open, the initiation fee being only $10.00. Initiation fee under closed charter will then be $50.00. Life Membership $250.00, with no further payments.

BACK AGAIN TO USING RESIN ON THE BALL

SUGGESTION IS MADE BY NATIONAL LEAGUE HEADS

JOHN HEYDLER SAYS TOO MANY
BALLS ARE POUNDED OVER
FENCE

345 DOZEN MORE BALLS USED
LAST YEAR MORE THAN
IN 1924

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Dec. 9. — Suggestion made by the National League that pitchers be allowed to use resin on the ball will find opposition at the annual meeting of the American League club owners here today.

The National League asked Commissioner Landis to call a meeting of the joint rules committee in February to consider an alteration of the restrictions on pitching, shortening of the playing season and other minor matters.

Several of the American League magnates said today that they were against any change in the pitching rules.

"Is the National League afraid of losing a few balls?" Bobby Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, asked. "If pitchers are allowed to use resin, even under the supervision of umpires, they will start using other foreign substances and the whole rule would be useless."

Heavy consumption of balls in recent years may have had something to do with the change of attitude by the National League owners as John Heydler, president of the league, stressed that there were 345 dozen balls used last year more than in 1924; 1,520 dozen more than in 1920 and 2,700 dozen more than in 1915.

The National League owners did very little business at their session yesterday and the meeting will close today with memorial services for a large number of prominent baseball men who died during the past season.

The American League owners have little of importance on the program for their meeting. It is understood that they will approve a shorter playing season and will suggest a rule preventing encroachments on the playing field during the world's series games.

Some change in the rule covering playoff games stopped by rain may also be considered. Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, has suggested that games be played off from the point where they were stopped.

No deals of importance are expected to be completed. Connie Mack announced that he had signed Kid Gleason, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, as a coach and assistant manager. Gleason was in retirement for two years because of poor health.

Officials of the New York Yankees said that several trades were being considered but that nothing definite was under way.

The owners of the two leagues will meet in joint session here tomorrow with Commissioner Landis.

Term of Opprobrium

The term Yankee, according to Bombaugh, is not Indian, but Dutch, and means to snarl and quarrel. It was applied by the burghers of New Amsterdam to the invaders from Connecticut.

These boys, who are among the stellar members of the Minnesota football team, have a nice act, but they are having trouble booking it. Consequently there is today a probability that Minnesota may play two games next year with Michigan, one at Ann Arbor early in the season and one at home at the season's close.

Other conference opponents already booked are Iowa and Wisconsin, with both of which institutions Minnesota has maintained a long series of annual games.

Minnesota expects to be stronger next year than it was this, although no one has as yet started any boasting. Some nice freshman material is coming up and most of the veterans will return.

Home games, however, will be far fewer than they were in 1925, when the record breaking string of seven straight home games gave Minnesota a feast of football the like of which had not been known. This unprecedented opportunity to see a high class team in action is believed to account in large part for the unusual interest in football that has swayed the northwest this fall. Minnesota will play the second game of a three game series against Notre Dame next fall, the last game to be played in 1927 at South Bend, Indiana.

The Freshman Heart-Breakers broke the heart of the Hi-Y club team by a lop-sided victory, 22-4. The Heart-Breakers had a perfect offense, with Swanson, Wise and Aro working smoothly as a machine, while Heikkinen and Gabiou held the opposition offense down to two baskets, both by Viken.

Swanson was going great guns, with seven baskets. Aro made one and Wise two and two free throws. It was pretty to see the passing of the Freshmen, with a marvelous ease in slipping through the defense of the Hi-Y men. Lawyer of the Hi-Y team added to the fun of the evening by scoring a basket for the Freshmen. He got mixed up at the start of the second half, and dribbled down the wrong way, without being stopped. Koop refereed the game. Line-ups were: Freshmen, Wise and Aro, forwards; Swanson, center; Heikkinen and Gabiou, guards; Boyd, sub. Hi-Y Club: Lorenz and Mayo, forwards; Viken, center; Lawyer and Rosina, guards; Viken and O'Brien, subs.

The Radiolas will go to Aitkin on Thursday night to play the fast Co. B team of that city. The Brainerd players will have to travel at top speed to keep their string of victories unbroken. Several local fans are planning to follow the team for the game. It is hoped that arrangements for a return game may be made, as the Aitkin Co. B team is one of the greatest drawing cards in this region.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE PLANS

JUNIOR AND INTERMEDIATE ASSOCIATIONS ARE FORMED

JUNIOR AGE LIMIT 13 YEARS, INTERMEDIATE LIMIT 16 YEARS

Representatives from several Sunday schools met on Monday night to prepare plans for a Sunday school basketball league. As a result of the meeting, two leagues were decided upon, one a Junior league, to take in boys up to and including thirteen years of age, and an Intermediate league, for boys up to and including sixteen years of age.

Already six churches have indicated a desire to enter the Junior league, the churches being the Bethlehem Lutheran, Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist, Bethlehem Evangelical and Zion Evangelical. Five churches have decided to enter teams in the Intermediate division, the Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist, Swedish Baptist and Zion Evangelical. Other churches will undoubtedly enter later. The league is open to any Sunday school desiring to play.

To avoid the possibility of boys shifting from one Sunday school to another for purposes of playing basketball it was decided that a boy who was on Dec. 7th a member of any Sunday school may not play with another school's team even by changing his membership to that school. Boys who are not now members of any school may become eligible to play by beginning attending the Sunday school. It was decided that a boy must be a regular attendant of a Sunday school to represent it, and that if he misses attendance two Sundays in succession, he is ineligible until he starts attending again.

Play will start about January 4th, and all games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, in the early evening, perhaps at seven o'clock. No admission will be charged for any of these games. Schedules for both leagues will be published as soon as all churches desiring to enter have notified to that effect. Those who have not yet indicated a desire to enter, and wish to do so, may get other details from Alfred Dillan at the Y. M. C. A., telephone 294.

Some interest is also expressed in a Senior league. If enough churches wish to enter, a Senior league will be formed. To date four churches are lined up for Senior teams. Suitable banners will be awarded the champions of each league.

BACK AGAIN TO USING RESIN ON THE BALL

SUGGESTION IS MADE BY NATIONAL LEAGUE HEADS

JOHN HEYDLER SAYS TOO MANY BALLS ARE POUNDED OVER FENCE

345 DOZEN MORE BALLS USED LAST YEAR MORE THAN IN 1924

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Dec. 9. — Suggestion made by the National League that pitchers be allowed to use resin on the ball will find opposition at the annual meeting of the American League club owners here today.

The National League asked Commissioner Landis to call a meeting of the joint rules committee in February to consider an alteration of the restrictions on pitching, shortening of the playing season and other minor matters.

Several of the American League magnates said today that they were against any change in the pitching rules.

"Is the National League afraid of losing a few balls?" Bobby Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, asked. "If pitchers are allowed to use resin, even under the supervision of umpires, they will start using other foreign substances and the whole rule would be useless."

Heavy consumption of balls in recent years may have had something to do with the change of attitude by the National League owners as John Heydler, president of the league, stressed that there were 345 dozen balls used last year more than in 1925; 1,520 dozen more than in 1920 and 2,700 dozen more than in 1915.

The National League owners did very little business at their session yesterday and the meeting will close today with memorial services for a large number of prominent baseball men who died during the past season.

The American League owners have little of importance on the program for their meeting. It is understood that they will approve a shorter playing season and will suggest a rule preventing encroachments on the playing field during the world's series games.

Some change in the rule covering playoff games stopped by rain may also be considered. Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, has suggested that games be played off from the point where they were stopped.

No deals of importance are expected to be completed. Connie Mack announced that he had signed Kid Gleason, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, as a coach and assistant manager. Gleason was in retirement for two years because of poor health.

Officials of the New York Yankees said that several trades were being considered but that nothing definite was under way.

The owners of the two leagues will meet in joint session here tomorrow with Commissioner Landis.

Term of Opprobrium

The term Yankee, according to Bombaugh, is not Indian, but Dutch, and means to snarl and quarrel. It was applied by the burghers of New Amsterdam to the invaders from Connecticut.

RADIOLAS 20, STEWART CHURCH 15 IN BASKETBALL

ERICSSON, HEIKKINEN AND BOLLENS BIG OFFENSIVE TRIO

The Radiolas defeated the Stewart church team of Minneapolis on Saturday night at the high school gymnasium, by a score of 20-15, and kept their slate clean, not yet having lost a game, either practice or scheduled game, this year.

Ericsson, Heikkinen and Bollens were the big offensive trio for the Radiolas, the first two each netting three baskets, and Bollens two. Otto Heikkinen came up to put in a long shot in the second quarter. Heikkinen and Fitzsimmons kept the Minneapolis forwards worried with their close guarding. As a whole the team played in improved style over their other contests.

For the Stewarts of Minneapolis, Oliver and Gale were the stars. Both of these men are letter men from Central High School in Minneapolis. Oliver was the big scorer, with four field goals. He is about the fastest floor man seen here in many days. Gale was the center of the defense, and seemed to be all over the floor. Boechmann, who went in for Wahlberg at center in the last quarter, did some fine playing.

The fairly large crowd of fans attending the game were pleased with the contest and with the way in which Peterson officiated.

CRITICIZES THE HIGH SCHOOL

Theodore Utne, Director High School Department, Says Building is Inadequate

LETTER READ AT BOARD SESSION
Schools of City to Close For Holiday Vacation, Dec. 18, Re-opening January 4

The school board held its regular meeting Monday evening with all members present except F. M. Hagerberg and Fred Drexler.

A committee from the Fourth ward Parent-Teachers' association appeared before the board and asked assistance in financing repairs to the playground equipment, stating that the park board at the present time had no funds with which to carry on this work. They also asked for a cupboard in which to store dishes in the basement and a stove to be used for cooking purposes. These matters were referred to the building committee.

A communication under date of November 23rd from Theodore Utne, director of high school department addressed to Louis F. Hohman, clerk of the school board, was read which is as follows:

"Mr. Flinn and I visited your school October 12th. I regret to state that we did not find the school in satisfactory condition. We did not observe the work in the grade buildings, but we did find your high school building inadequate, filled to overflowing and in such condition as to be a menace to the safety and morality of your pupils. It is unfortunate that the recent bond issue failed to carry. There is no other city in the state of Minnesota the size of Brainerd with as poor school facilities as are to be found in your city. We hope that for the sake of your boys and girls it may be possible in the near future for your community to provide better school facilities."

After considerable discussion relative to the communication, a motion was carried that the communication be received and placed on file, and that Supt. Cobb be asked to acknowledge receipt of the same.

A communication was read from J. H. Krekelberg of this city in which he offered for sale to the Brainerd school district the Kylo property on South Fifth street. No action was taken by the board and discussion of the matter was continued until the next meeting.

The schools of the city will close for the holiday vacation on December 18th and re-open on January 4. The report of the building committee was read, after which the building committee was directed to install an additional cloak and hat rack in the high school; to purchase a gymnasium mat for use by the girls in gymnasium work; to provide court board in the Lowell school and to provide platforms in the auditorium of the different grade buildings to be used for programs, etc.

The committee, on motion, was directed to solicit bids for 20 additional large electric light fixtures. The committee also reported that Mr. Johnson, janitor of the Harmon building was taken ill last Saturday necessitating putting Charles Varner in his place. Supt. Cobb was authorized to purchase a Beck duplicator on approval.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Supt. Cobb were asked to make arrangements for the sale of Christmas seals this year. Heretofore, that matter has been handled by all the teachers of the different buildings and it has become quite annoying, each teacher having to keep a check on all penny seals given to each individual and the principal keeping check of each building. Owing to the fact that the sale of these seals comes at the same time as the close of the first semester, it was thought advisable to formulate a plan whereby some other person outside the teacher could handle these seals.

In addition to the written report presented by the health and sanitation committee, R. W. Crust, chairman gave a part verbal report relative to a two or three-day clinic on corrective speech they would like to hold during this month which would be conducted by a specialist from the state university. This specialist can be obtained only two or three days during the month of December. The committee was authorized to hold this clinic. Miss Oerting, English teacher is so interested in this work that she offered to help defray the expense of this clinic by taking some of the money raised by her class play entertainments. However, the board decided to pay the expenses themselves.

The attendance at the evening citizenship classes this year now number 30 pupils and they meet regularly Tuesday and Thursday evening of each week. The classes are in charge of Miss Hjerpe and Miss Vanasek.

The treasurer submitted his report for the quarter ending October 31st. The reports were received and referred to the finance committee for checking.

After allowing claims and accounts, on motion, the board adjourned.

Mrs. Geo. Hansen and little son Billie are visiting in Chaska, Minn., but are expected home this week. Due to the inclement weather there was a small attendance at the C. E. meeting Sunday night. Be on hand next Sunday night for an interesting hour together.

The Christian Endeavor in this neighborhood is not to be considered as partial to any church and might be called a Luther League, B. Y. P. U., or Epworth League as well. We do owe our start to the courtesy of the C. E. of the South Long Lake church who conducted our initial meeting. Whether we continue as a C. E. is "up to you." Come and voice your opinions.

The Hansens spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barr. R. B. Thompson, as well as Robert and Janet have been confined to the house with the grip.

Any news item for this column will be appreciated. Call up Country Cousin before Tuesday morning of each week.

Many of the farmers in the neighborhood attended the lecture on dairy farming in the town hall last Wednesday afternoon and felt well paid for doing so.

Time was when merely to be out in the forest on such a day would have pleased him, but gone entirely there came now an irritation at the physical discomfort it entailed. He soon began to perspire freely, too freely; nevertheless, there was no glow to his body; he could think only of easy-chairs and warm stoves. He wondered what ailed him. Nothing could be more abhorrent than this, he told himself. Health was a valuable thing, no doubt, and he had that pleasure, and in its place agreed that no price was too high to pay for it—no price, perhaps, except dull, uninteresting exercise of this sort. He was upon the point of turning back when the trail suddenly broke out into a natural clearing and he saw something which challenged his attention.

To the left of the path rose a steep bank, and beyond that the bare, sloping mountain-side. In the shelter of the bank the snow had drifted deep, but oddly enough, its placid surface was churned up, as if from an explosion or some desperate conflict that had been lately waged. It had been tossed up and thrown down. What caused him to stare was the fact that no footprints were discernible—nothing except queer, wavering parallel streaks that led downward from the snowy turmoil to the level ground below. They resembled the tracks of some oddly fashioned sled.

Pierce halted and with bent head was studying the phenomenon, when close above him he heard the rush of a swiftly approaching body; he looked up just in time to behold an apparition utterly unexpected, utterly astounding. Swooping directly down upon him with incredible velocity was what seemed at first glance to be a bird—woman, a Valkyrie out of the pages of Norse mythology. Wingless she was, yet she came like the wind, and at the very instant Pierce raised his eyes she took the air almost over his head—quite as if he had started her into an upward flight. Upon her feet was a pair of long, Norwegian skis, and upon these she had scudded down the mountain-side; where the bank dropped away she had leaped, and now, like a meteor, she soared into space. This amazing creature was clad in a blue-and-white toboggan suit, short skirt, sweater jacket, and knitted cap. As she hung outlined against the wintry sky Pierce caught a snap-shot glimpse of a fair, flushed, youthful face set in a ludicrous expression of open-mouthed dismay at sight of him. He heard, too, a high-pitched cry, half of warning, half of fright; the next instant there was a mighty upheaval of snow, an explosion of feathery white, as the human projectile landed, then a blur of blue-and-white stripes as it went rolling down the declivity.

"Good Lord!" Pierce cried, agitated, then he sped after the apparition. Only for the evidence of that undignified tumble, he would have doubted the reality of this flying Venus and considered her some creature of his imagination. There she lay, however, a thing of flesh and blood, bruised, broken, helpless; apprehensively he pictured himself staggering back to town with her in his arms.

He halted speechless, when the girl sat up, shook the snow out of her hair, gingerly felt one elbow, then the other, and finally burst into a peal of ringing laughter. The face she lifted to his, now that it wore a normal expression, was wholly charming; it was, in fact, about the freshest, the cleanest, the healthiest and the frankest countenance he had ever looked into.

"Glorious!" he stammered. "I thought you were—completely spoiled."

"I'm badly twisted," the girl managed to gasp, "but I guess I'm all here. Oh! What a bump!"

"You scared me, I never dreamed—I didn't hear a thing until—Well, I looked up and there you were. The sky was full of you. Gee! I thought I'd lost my mind. Are you quite sure you're all right?"

"Oh, I'll be black and blue again, but I'm used to that. That's the funniest one I've had, the very funniest. Why don't you laugh?"

"I'm too rattled, I suppose. I'm not accustomed to flying girls. Never had them rain down on me out of the heavens."

The girl's face grew sober. "You're entirely to blame," she cried angrily. "I was getting it beautifully until you showed up. You popped right out of the ground. What are you doing in the Queen's Park, anyhow? You've no business at the royal sports."

"I didn't mean to trespass."

"I think I'll call the guards."

"Call the court physician and make sure."

"Pshaw! I'm not hurt." Ignoring his extended hand, she scrambled to her feet and brushed herself again. Evidently the queenly anger was short-lived, for she was beaming again, and in a tone that was boyishly intimate she explained:

"I'd made three dandy jumps and was going higher each time, but the sight of you upset me. Think of being upset by a perfectly strange man. Shows lack of social training, doesn't it? It's a wonder I didn't break a skee."

New York, Dec. 9.—Continuation of relative high call money and the feeling in speculative quarters that the market had temporarily discontinued the constructive factors in the economic situation were responsible for a heavy selling movement on the stock exchange today.

In view of the absence of aggressive opposition professionals were successful in marking down prices substantially in the principal speculative stocks. Selling gathered momentum as the decline proceeded and new low levels on the reaction were reached in the late afternoon.

Business news continued favorable with reports from steel centers, particularly Pittsburgh.

The market closed lower.

New York, Dec. 9.—Continuation of relative high call money and the feeling in speculative quarters that the market had temporarily discontinued the constructive factors in the economic situation were responsible for a heavy selling movement on the stock exchange today.

In view of the absence of aggressive opposition professionals were successful in marking down prices substantially in the principal speculative stocks. Selling gathered momentum as the decline proceeded and new low levels on the reaction were reached in the late afternoon.

Business news continued favorable with reports from steel centers, particularly Pittsburgh.

The market closed lower.

PRES. COOLIDGE TRANSMITS NATIONAL BUDGET

TOTAL REVENUES ESTIMATED AT $3,824,530,203 FOR 1927

PROBABLE SURPLUS FOR 1927 WILL BE AT LEAST $330,307,894.56

By WILLIAM J. LOSH (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 9.—The national budget for the fiscal year of 1927 transmitted to congress today by President Coolidge estimated total revenues of $3,824,530,203, total expenditures of $3,494,222,308.44 and a probable surplus of $330,307,894.56 for that year.

Revised estimates for the current fiscal year placed total revenues at $3,880,716,942, total expenditures at $3,618,675,186 and the probable surplus June 30 next at $262,041,765, a decrease of $89,082,244 below the surplus estimated by the president for that date a year ago, due to increased expenditures.

Counselling continued effort for economy, the president, in a message accompanying the document, said it had borne fruit, but added, "We have about reached the time when the legitimate business of government cannot be carried on at a less expenditure than that which it now requires. With regard to our legitimate business, the operating costs have been reduced to nearly a minimum."

"The effort for economy, however, must continue," said the president. "So far as it lies within the power of the chief executive, it will continue."

The message was notable for more comprehensive expression of the president's sentiments toward aircraft, prohibition, and government building than he made in his annual message to congress yesterday.

"This government is pursuing an orderly policy toward building up its air services," he said, announcing large appropriations for new aircraft construction. "If we continue this policy, there need be no fear of our national defense situation in so far as air strength is concerned."

GET JAIL TERMS

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Because "Benny" and the "Captain" were barred from the court room, Harry and Dorothy Woods, spirit mediums, were incarcerated today in the Minneapolis work house.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods were arrested on a vagrancy charge when police raided their seance rooms. A police woman, posing as a widow, was there at the time receiving advice from "Benny" and the "Captain," trusty spirits invoked by the mediums, to dispose of her earthly possessions.

The spiritualists protested in court that only ectoplasmic witnesses could vindicate them and offered as their defense "loud speaker" communicated between the judge and the spirit world. The judge ruled "Benny" and the "Captain" incompetent witnesses and pronounced 30 and 90 day sentences upon their cosmic representatives.

VALIDITY OF STATE ORE TAX TESTED

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The U. S. Supreme court today devoted a second day to hearing arguments on the validity of the Minnesota ore tax, protested by iron and steel companies of that state. The court usually allows only two to four hours for arguing such cases.

Charles Evans Hughes was one of the attorneys for the iron and steel companies, which challenged the right of the state to exact a royalty or "rental" charge on all ore taken from the ground.

Many millions of dollars are involved in the contest.

Hughes and his associates contended the tax is an arbitrary and unreasonable burden on the industry.

Brewery Permits Revoked

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Permits of all breweries in the Chicago district—Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin—will be revoked automatically December 31, according to an announcement made by E. C. Yellowley director of prohibition for this district.

By this order every brewer in the three states will be forced to cease operation temporarily on that date, he said.

All the breweries will be forced to apply for new permits and they will be issued under the most drastic regulations ever imposed on the manufacture of cereal beverages, he said.

Director Yellowley confidently expects that this move will break the backbone of the liquor industry in the territory. He said that although he has no disposition to hinder legitimate business he is determined to stamp out "Kheating breweries."

Republican Majority in Senate Now Deadlocked

BELIEVE CAPTURE OF MUKDEN BY LING IMMINENT

Tokio, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Telegraphic communication with Mukden has been shut off for 24 hours and it is believed the capture of the city by Gen. Kuo Sung Ling, enemy of the Mukden leader Chang Tso Lin, is imminent.

The Mukden war lord is reported to have fled to Kirin.

Consuls at Mukden have officially requested the Japanese consul there to assume the task of protecting all foreigners.

FERVID LETTERS TO MATCH THE RHINELANDERS

INTRODUCED IN EVIDENCE AT TRIAL OF LOUIS BRUEY

FATHER SHOT BOY ALLEGED IN TIME WITH HIS DAUGHTER

Fairfield, Iowa, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Letters that match the fervid correspondence in the famous Rhinelander-Jones case of New York will be introduced in evidence in the trial of Louis Bruey who shot and killed Sam McNeese, 18, here last Saturday. It was made known today.

These letters, scores of them in a shoe box, were found among the lad's effects by his mother after the tragedy. They are signed "E. B." and presumably from Edna Bruey, 14 years old, the girl for whose alleged seduction Bruey, her father, shot the boy.

All the notes are addressed to Sam and he is called "Dear Hubby" throughout. Many references to other boys and girls, usually by initials, indicate that what was going on between her and the boy was common knowledge of others and it is believed that the reading of these notes at the trial will reveal other scandals.

In all the correspondence which seems to have begun Jan. 1, 1923, when the girl was but 12 years old, and to have ended Dec. 1, 1925, four days before the shooting, there is the frankest statement of relations, one of the earlier letters being illustrated by a crude drawing. Through the letters there is expressed the fear that the girl's father will discover the affair.

The letters really are crude notes, written on scratch paper at school, and one of them explains the difficulty of dodging the attention of the teacher and pupils around her.

Bruey, who surrendered to the sheriff following the murder, is at liberty on $15,000 bond. He will have a hearing on a charge of first degree murder tomorrow.

NO TRACE OF BANDITS WHO RAIDED ANOKA

HELD UP ANOKA BANK AND ESCAPED WITH $15,000

NOW BELIEVED TO BE HIDING ON A FARM NEAR TWIN CITIES

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Bank robbers who held up the Anoka, Minn., bank yesterday and escaped with $15,000, are believed to be hiding on a farm somewhere near the Twin Cities and police are making a search of the surrounding country.

St. Paul police were notified of the robbery yesterday soon after it occurred and guards were rushed to all the roads leading into Minneapolis and St. Paul. The towns around Anoka are also on the lookout for the bandits.

The same gang is believed responsible for the rifling of four banks in this district of a total loot of about $40,000.

FRENCH AND BRITISH AGREE ON ARMS PARLEY

FULL UNDERSTANDING ON PROGRAM OF PROPOSED LEAGUE OF NATIONS

MOSUL CONTROVERSY NOW IS ONLY MATTER NOT CLEAR-ED UP

By HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Dec. 9.—France and Great Britain today reached a full agreement on the program of the proposed 1926 League of Nations disarmament conference.

This agreement sought in two secret meetings of the league council, finally included an understanding on all points including a settlement of the two nations' disputes over the question of military contingents to be provided under the mutual assistance provisions of Article XVI of the League covenant.

This left the Mosul controversy practically the sole stumbling block before the council. This question, it was held, offers grave possibilities. Meantime, league men studied the message of President Coolidge to congress, reaching the conclusion that he was ready for American participation in a naval disarmament parley but not in a land conference.

President Coolidge's congressional message welcoming European efforts at disarmament was one of the deciding factors in enabling the British and French to reach the agreement on the conference program.

The message is still being studied by the council to enable the body to decide the precise nature of the invitation it will address the United States for collaboration in the conference work.

RHINELANDER JUROR MAKES CHARGE IN CASE

SAYS AN EYE SPECIALIST SPOKE TO HIM ABOUT THE CASE

OCCURRED ON THE SECOND DAY OF THE COURT TRIAL

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(UP)—One of the jurors in the sensational Rhinelander trial today was directed to appear before the Westchester grand jury in connection with a conversation he is alleged to have had with a friend during the progress of the trial.

Frederick G. Sanford, juror number 4, of Yonkers, told Supreme Court Justice Morschauser that on the second day of the court trial Dr. J. C. Bennett, eye specialist, had spoken with him regarding the merits of the Rhinelander action.

"I gathered the impression that Dr. Bennett favors Rhinelander," Sanford said. "I gathered also that he was opposed to inter-racial marriages."

"This strikes at the foundations of justice," Morschauser said. "Bringing outside influences to bear must stop. I want jurors left alone."

Sanford was then directed to appear before the grand jury tomorrow.

BRITISH FRONTIER GUARDS CLASH WITH DRUSE TRIBES

Jerusalem, Dec. 9.—(UP)—British frontier gendarmes have clashed with Druse tribesmen for the first time, according to reports here today. A band of tribesmen chased the French across the boundary line at Metuliah Monday and refused to surrender their arms whereupon the British guards fired.

Several were wounded on both sides.

FIRE SWEEPS ROOMING HOUSE, 1 WOMAN DEAD

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—One woman is dead, three other persons probably fatally injured and six others seriously hurt as the result of a fire which swept a rooming house early today. The place was packed with lodgers and numerous leaps from second and third story windows and daring rescues featured the blaze.

The rooming house was in the near-loop district, midway between the Northwestern and Union stations.

Lawrence Saldina, 25, succumbed to burns at a hospital today, increasing the death list to two. One of four others seriously injured is not expected to live.

Despite efforts to revive her with a pulmotor, Mrs. Vivian Rodriguez, 30, died at a hospital shortly after the fire.

CONGRESS IN SURVEY OF THE COOLIDGE MESSAGE

INCLINED TO GIVE HIM HIS WAY ON MOST POINTS STRESSED

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING AND MUSCLE SHOALS WILL BE CONTESTED

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 9.—Congress is inclined to give President Coolidge his way on the most important of 26 points he stressed in his program of legislation submitted in his message yesterday. The general reaction (although critical of some features) gave indications that a tax bill acceptable to him would be adopted; that the senate would ratify the world court proposal and that his moderate air defense improvement project would be accepted.

On two issues, however, there was an underlying dissatisfaction that bespoke a bitter fight—the issue of a co-operative marketing aid bill and sale of the government's big Muscle Shoals nitrate plants.

Upon the lesser issues of coal legislation, revision of the shipping board and railroad consolidation favorable consideration was promised by leaders and if the subjects are not acted upon as he desires, it will be because both houses do not have time to squeeze the projects in their lengthy calendars before mid-summer adjournment.

The farm bloc found the co-operative marketing feature objectionable because of its theory that the present trouble of the farmer is due to too much exploitation. What the farmer needs, they say, is a measure which will stabilize his prices.

Although the co-operative marketing bill will be introduced as drafted by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, it will be strenuously opposed and an effort will be made to substitute for it an indirect price fixing bill.

Democrats have already picked the Mitchell air defense program as a major party issue against the republicans. Senator Robinson, democratic floor leader, has announced that a unified air system is a national necessity second only to tax reduction.

The tax bill which Mr. Coolidge praised so highly will go through the house early next week in much the same shape it now is. In the senate it would be torn to pieces but the law which will finally be sent to him for signature will be a compromise between the house and senate.

On the world court, its adherents claim 78 votes, or 12 more than the necessary two-thirds to ratify American adherence.

Child Saves Family From Suffocation

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—A family of seven children was saved from suffocation today by the warning of a five-year-old child. The youngster fell ill and aroused his 18-year-old sister. She found five other members of the family already overcome. Mr. and Mrs. George Date, the parents, were not affected. The children will recover.

Butter Ordered Seized

Duluth, Dec. 9.—Two hundred pounds of butter made in Superior was ordered seized yesterday. The butter contained 30 per cent water. State law allows only 16 per cent of water. An attempt is being made to exclude inferior butter from the state.

NEW TAX BILL COMES UP IN THE HOUSE TODAY

RULES SUSPENDED IN ITS FAVOR, DEBATE EXPEDITED

REPUBLICANS TO REPLY TO ATTACKS MADE BY REP. GARNER

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 9.—The new tax bill came up in the house today with rules suspended in its favor and leaders united to expedite debate.

Customarily every Wednesday is given over in the house to the consideration of calendar bills but so anxious are those handling the $325,000,000 tax reduction measure to put it through, in record-breaking time that they obtained a suspension of this custom.

Republican members of the ways and means committee were to reply today to attacks made on the bill yesterday by Rep. Garner, Texas, ranking democrat member of the committee. Garner insisted that the surtax rate should have been set at 25 per cent instead of 20 per cent and indicated that the republicans and democrats disagreed in committee on this levy.

Representative Ogden Mills, republican, New York, was slated as the first member of the majority to reply to Garner. Mills will contend that a twenty per cent surtax levy will net the government more revenue than any other surtax rate. To impose a higher rate, he will warn it will encourage those of great fortunes to resort to evasion of taxes by investments in tax-exempt securities.

TRY TO BRAND MITCHELL AS A PLAGIARIST

ATTEMPT OF WAR DEPARTMENT FAILS AT COURT MARTIAL

COURT REFUSES TO HEAR TESTIMONY ON THE SUBJECT

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Another attempt by the war department prosecution at the Mitchell court martial to brand Col. Mitchell as a plagiarist, failed today when the court refused to hear testimony purporting to bear on the subject.

The prosecution produced Captain Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N., submarine expert, who is the author of a printed lecture delivered in 1919 which, it charged, Mitchell embodied verbatim in his book "Winged Defense." It asked that his testimony be admitted to shed light on Mitchell's character.

Col. Blanton Winslip, law officer of the court, however, ruled that the court was not trying Mitchell for plagiarism and the court sustained his recommendation that they refuse to hear the witness.

A previous attempt by the war department failed on the same grounds.

After this flurry, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, was called by the prosecution to confront his former assistant, Col. Mitchell. He denounced many of Mitchell's charges against the air service.

Murder Charges Against Driver

Superior, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Jack Levinsky, former proprietor of the Chicken Shack, notorious cabaret is held under bond to Superior court today charged with murder.

Levinsky is held responsible for the deaths of Joseph McDonald and Lawrence Fitzpatrick, Cleveland Lake sailors, alleged to have been struck by Levinsky's automobile on Nov. 21. Both died from resulting injuries.

Manslaughter warrants first preferred by authorities have been withdrawn and murder charges substituted.

ARRAIGNS OUR CRIMINAL COURTS, 'WORST IN WORLD'

Chicago, Dec. 9.—(UP)—More than 100,000 murderers are free in the United States today because American criminal courts are the worst in the civilized world, Dr. Charles F. Aked, of Los Angeles, said.

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS IN ALBANIA FLOODS

Durazzo, Albania, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Hundreds are homeless as a result of floods which swept over Sentari, a town of 20,000 inhabitants.

A large part of the city is under water. The government is sending supplies to the stricken area and has appropriated funds for relief work.

Many are believed to be dead. The Albanian parliament has adjourned as a sign of mourning.

FARM BUREAU LEADERS ARE AFTER HARMONY

ATTEMPT THROUGH RESOLUTIONS TO SOLIDIFY THE ORGANIZATION

HOPE THAT A MILITANT PROGRAM CAN BE ADOPTED

Chicago, Dec. 9.—Leaders of the American Farm Bureau Federation today attempted through the adoption of resolutions to solidify the organization and to bring harmony out of the maelstrom of discontent that appeared in matters of policy.

Bitter debate over the adoption of resolutions seemed certain but those who have been guiding the Federation hope that peace will finally triumph so that a militant program can be carried out with full co-operation of all members. Differences of opinion, long lurking under cover were brought to the surface by public expressions on the address that President Coolidge delivered on Monday. While one group of Federation members endorsed the president's stand on the tariff and price fixing, another group opposed Mr. Coolidge on both issues.

Sen. Arthur Capper, Kansas, addressing the Federation last night, praised the president's speech on all matters save the tariff. Whereas Mr. Coolidge expressed satisfaction with the present tariff as an aid to farmers, Capper declared that should be made to apply to agricultural surplus.

On two matters of policy the Farm Bureau Federation appeared united. They are co-operative marketing and reduction of freight rates in the middle west.

The convention was expected to close this evening after election of officers and adoption of resolutions.

Creameries Flourishing

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Division of more than $100,000 in extra dividends will be made by the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association Jan. 2, it was announced here today by John Brandt, president.

The money to be returned over to member creameries represents savings on $1,500,000 worth of creamery supplies furnished by the association, Brandt said. The $100,000 is in addition to profits from sale of members' products.

The annual meeting of the association is to be held in Minneapolis in March.

SEVEN WITNESSES HEARD IN THE BIRKELAND CASE

CORONER'S JURY IN MINNEAPOLIS

TESTIMONY IF DISCLOSED WOULD "DEFEAT JUSTICE," CLAIMED

Minneapolis, Dec. 9.—(UP)—Seven witnesses were heard yesterday by the coroner's jury, in secret session, investigating the death of Knute B. Birkeland, former pastor and business man, found dead in an apartment December 1. The testimony was confidential and if disclosed would "defeat justice," County Attorney Floyd B. Olson said.

Before the secret session, a newspaper reporter said he had found two cards on the body, one bearing the name of Birkeland and the other "Reynolds." The janitor said he had not seen "Mr. Reynolds."

The pathologist who made the post-mortem examination repeated that death was not natural, but if poison was used no trace of it remained to be detected.

AT SEA WHAT TO DO WITH 2 INSURGENTS

LA FOLLETTE, JR., AND NYE ARE DISTURBING FACTORS

G. O. P. COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES UNABLE TO REACH DECISION

Washington, Dec. 9.—(UP)—The republican majority in the senate is deadlocked over what should be done with the two new new "baby" insurgents in their ranks, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., and Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

Unable to reach a decision, the republican committee on committees will delay a further meeting until Monday in the hope that some compromise may be reached on whether LaFollette should receive the favor of republican committee assignments.

In a similar deadlock the senate privileges and elections committee is adjourned until Friday, seeking more light on legality of Nye's appointment by Gov. Sorlie, North Dakota.

The pre-arranged plan of seating Nye and welcoming LaFollette has run into a stone wall since convincing legal arguments against Nye were submitted by Sen. Goff, republican, West Virginia and Former Assistant Attorney General and also since LaFollette attended insurgents conferences instead of the republican meetings last Saturday.

The extent of the deadlock is discernible in a vote on the LaFollette issue reported to have been taken by the committee on committees yesterday afternoon. It is reported that Sen. Wadsworth, New York, joined Senators Moses and McNary in favor of LaFollette. Against them were Senators Watson, Indiana, Ernst and Cameron.

INQUEST OVER BODIES OF SEARS AND LATIMER GIRL

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 9.—(UP)—Although no additional clues have developed new light is expected to be shed on the mysterious slaying of James Sears and Madeline Latimer, near here Oct. 15, at the inquest which will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

The date for the inquest was set by Coroner Joseph Friend, who announced he had called a large number of witnesses.

Kenosha county officials and all those persons who had any connection with the finding of the two bodies will be called, Friend said.

ALIBI OFFERED IN DEFENSE OF GUNMAN MORAN

St. Paul, Dec. 9.—(UP)—An alibi was offered today in defense of Terry Moran, Chicago police character charged with participating in a $35,000 mail robbery at South St. Paul in April, 1924.

Introduction of defense testimony started with resumption of Moran's trial. Witnesses were placed on the stand to support the defense contention that Terry did not leave his rooming house the morning of the robbery until 10:30. The mail was taken at 9.

The defense also charged that Moran's confession secured by Denver police was induced by coercion.

2 MEN CHARGED WITH BEING FUGITIVES

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 9.—(UP)—James King and J. H. Hill were arraigned before a police magistrate here today on a fugitive warrant issued on information that they are wanted in St. Croix county, Wisconsin, for robbery of the First National bank of Baldwin, December 3.

A. M. De Voursney, Milwaukee manager of the protective branch of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, arrived to question the prisoners. Meanwhile Sheriff M. C. Emerson, Hudson, St. Croix county, is reported at Madison, Wis., securing extradition papers.

The county official is expected here tomorrow to start proceedings for return of the two men. King and Hill refused to tell De Voursney whether they will fight extradition. Authorities here are continuing their investigation in an attempt to connect the two men with other robberies.

of today, careless, carefree and extremely thoughtless.

"How many boys stop to think of the sacrifice their dads made to put them through college?" asks de Mille the producer.

"How many of these indulged youths of today realize the dreams their fathers have been having about their careers when they 'come back home' from college?"

"Not many and so in this light comedy Neil Hamilton has done many things. He has portrayed in the early portion a characteristic college boy, bubbling over with good spirits, cigarette smoke and bills. His dad is an after-thought. Pleasure is the thing of the moment... but the most important thing."

This cocksure young man is given a sudden jolt by his clever dad who sees what his boy is headed for. The way in which Neil "Pays the price" is very droll, very human and while there are plenty of laughs, there are many queer feelings around one's conscience as he sees it.

Bessie Love, the girl Neil falls madly in love with, is all that has ever been said about her. There is only one diminutive Bessie Love who is so adorable and so feminine. She is the sort of girl, in this picture, who re-creates faith in the younger set.

PASTOR GIVEN NICE SURPRISE

Members And Friends Honor Rev. J. R. Michaelson, of Bethlehem Lutheran Church

CARL ANDERSON PRESIDES

Program Introduced the Ceremonies, Pastor Being Given Gift of Gold

The members and friends of the Bethlehem Lutheran church surprised their pastor, Rev. J. R. Michaelson, on Friday evening, Dec. 4, in a party at the church. The pastor has been here for the last three months, and has won a place of great affection among the people of his congregation. The party on Friday was in the nature of a welcome to him and to his mother.

Carl Anderson was in charge of the program, which included singing by the congregation, and other members. The junior choir, of 14 voices, gave a splendid number. Duets were sung by the Misses Gladys Engbretson and Violet Hosten, and Misses Hannah Johnson and Borghild Olson. Anton Gilbertson, chairman of the board of deacons, spoke, as the oldest member of the church. The main address of the evening was given by Rev. O. L. Bolstad, of the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church, who welcomed Rev. Michaelson officially in an interesting address. Following this program, Carl Anderson spoke the words of presentation to the pastor, and presented him with a gift of gold, and also addressed a few remarks to Mrs. Michaelson, mother of the pastor, presenting her with a large bouquet of roses. Rev. Michaelson responded for himself and his mother, stating that he had long felt the sincere welcome of his people.

The ladies of the church served a fine lunch in the basement of the church after the program. A very large crowd was in attendance at the program, the church being packed with the many friends of the new pastor.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"BOYS WILL BE BOYS"

This easy, color-blind, vagrant of a proverb has been cited for generations as a defense for the recklessness and foolishness of youth. It ignores the fact that the harvest of wild oats is always rag-weed. It is nearer the truth to say "Boys will be men." The boy is father to the man. He must not be allowed to handicap the man who is to be through the indulgence of the boy who is. There is nothing more pathetic than the sight of a man shackled to wasteful and vicious habits whose chains of slavery were forged during the year of youthful ignorance or wilfulness. Play is the work of childhood. The boy who never learns to play fairly, honestly and enthusiastically will become a worker incompetent, distrustful and first fired.

The child is unprepared to make his decisions on difficult and complicated problems of social behavior, life-investment and religion. He lacks the perspective that experience gives. This perspective his parent must provide.

Allowing a child to reach his decisions without helpful guidance or influence is as criminal as allowing him to mature without the necessary food to insure a well developed body.

There is a difference between allowing a child to develop his own personality and allowing him to enslave himself to his passions.

No boy is better for having been bad.

No man is stronger because he was once unmanned.

We must protect the men who are to be from the boys who are!

GOES TO MINOT

To Attend the Annual District Council of the Gospel Assembly Next Week

Rev. H. H. Ness pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly of Brainerd will leave for Minot, N. D., next Monday to attend their annual district council meeting. He is going as a representative of the local Assembly and has been the fruits of the efforts put forth by the pastor and his members. Series of special meetings have been held and a great many conversions have taken place. Rev. Ness, was a representative for the Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) before entering into the ministry and he still maintains that its gasoline is the best on the market and that the Standard Oil Co. is a good company to work for, but that is not sufficient to bring one to heaven.

REV. H. H. NESS

Rev. Ness was a very active Christian worker in the Twin Cities among various churches, at street meetings, jail and hospital services. He left his good position to put his full time in Gospel work. He feels Brainerd is in need of a great spiritual revival in all of its churches and that it is time to cut out all their chicken dinners, oyster stews and candy sales and get down on their knees and pray. "Pastors who have to put on all those things and include shows and plays on their program as a substitute for Christ are admitting their own weakness and lack of faith," said Rev. Ness. While in Minot he will make arrangements for more special meetings to be held at the Full Gospel Assembly right after the holidays. The meetings will be advertised in the Brainerd Dispatch from time to time.

Rev. Ness will speak next Sunday at 3 p. m. on the subject "The Church and the Churches," and at 7:45 p. m. on "Be Sure Your Sin Will Find You Out."

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many Brainerd Folks Have Found the Way

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Brainerd resident says:

Carl Sorman, 109 S. Broadway, says: "My back pained continually. Mornings I was stiff and sore and I couldn't stoop without getting a knife-like jab across my kidneys. My kidneys acted too frequently and caused me annoyance. I used Doan's Pills from Skauge's Drug Co. and they fixed me up in fine shape." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. PRICE FIXING

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has reaffirmed his stand against price fixing of products, especially of farm products. True, that may be the proper stand in a general survey of the economic situation.

But President Reed of the Minnesota State Farm Bureau enunciated the principle of price fixing when he spoke at the Brainerd meeting of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau. Here is the argument of President Reed:

"It is essential for farmers to organize—not to attain an advantage, but to meet all other groups in our industrial life that are now organized. There are many things that will tend to help the present agricultural situation, but the one thing that agriculture must have in order to cope with other groups is an equality before the law. Some means must be attained by law to handle the exportable surplus of American farms that it will not entirely govern the price of the product going into domestic consumption. Brazil has done this for their coffee growers, the British colonies have done this for their producers of rubber, and some way must be developed by law that will do this for the American farmers."

The rubber fixed price will touch every American car owner. We will all pay tribute to England and the colonies. And every one knows how Brazil now rules the coffee market. While we set our faces against price fixing on a large scale, the housewife encounters it every day when she uses coffee, and dad and the whole family bump into it when the flivver starts its wearing out of the tires, and a new set conforming to the English fixed prices, must be acquired.

Said President Coolidge: "Farmers themselves do not wish to have meddling on the part of the government or to be placed under the inevitable restrictions involved in any system of direct or indirect price fixing, which would result from permitting the government to operate in the agricultural markets."

During the world war our farmers faced a combined front of allies who were in a fair way of compelling our farmers to face a single purchasing agency. It looked as though we were to face a certain wheat price and if we failed to accept, then we lost that market. The government, sensing the situation, set a price on wheat locally and that in turn governed the foreign market.

We never believed in this price fixing, but that coffee business of Brazil and the rubber business of England and its colonies has been an eye opener. We don't believe in universal price fixing, but some protection should be accorded the American farmer on a standard crop of the world importance of coffee or rubber, something in which we have a practical monopoly. Great caution must be exercised to determine what the crop shall be, or the government will fall into a slough if it backs the wrong commodity and faces too much opposition or competition.

MINNESOTA, THE YEAR-ROUND STATE

MINNESOTA is rapidly gaining fame as a summer resort state, says the Minneapolis Star editorially, and continues:

The call of the Ten Thousand Lakes is heard everywhere and from the wide world come travelers in automobiles and by train to play here.

Thy begin to arrive when the bass and trout season opens in the spring and they continue through the summer, swimming, boating and motoring throughout the northern wilderness. In the fall comes another army composed mostly of the hunters seeking ducks and deer.

But in the winter when Minnesota is transformed into a brilliant white paradise even Minnesotans seem far from sold upon the delights of the state and attempt to put the soft pedal on the fact that we have snow and ice in his country.

To the traveler who comes prepared for excessive cold weather, Minnesota winters seem far from extreme. It is only to the southerner or easterner who arrives here with spats and a derby hat that Minnesota seems cold.

There should be established in northern Minnesota somewhere within easy motoring distance of the Twin Cities a great resort for all winter sports. (Establish it in the Brainerd Lake Region, we might suggest to the Star.)

There should be tobogganing, skating, skiing, hockey, la crosse, bob-sled coasting, sleighing, ice boating and the like. There should be fishing through the ice, dog sledding and reindeer sleighing if these things can be developed here or imported for the occasion. This will bring people here in winter for a good time and help to dissipate the idea that the season is one long blizzard.

Minneapolis has been using bad psychology in regard to its cold weather. You can't kid the world into believing that there is anything tropic about February in this country and the thing to do is to capitalize the ideal winter weather we have here then. After the well-to-do people have gone to California and Florida to live they will soon be hunting Minnesota in the winter time as well as in the summer for a real bracing breath of air.

THE NYE APPOINTMENT

WHEN Governor Sorlie of North Dakota appointed Nye U. S. Senator, his action produced a world of discussion. And it hasn't been settled either when Nye sought to take his seat in the senate.

There it passed into the hands of the election committee. The point argued now is whether Nye is a state officer or federal officer. Senator Goff of West Virginia claims that a member of congress is a federal officer and as such the law of North Dakota gives the governor no right to appoint a senator to fill a vacancy.

Following the death of Senator Nelson, the state of Minnesota faced the same situation. On one side Governor Preus was sought to make an appointment, but he eventually decided in favor of an election.

The question should be definitely settled by the senate and its decision will then serve as a precedent.

The GOLDEN RULE in PRACTICE

A series of articles by prominent leaders on 'The Golden Rule as a guide in International Relations.'

PLAIN LIVING AND HIGH THINKING

By CHARLES V. VICKREY
General Secretary of the Near East Relief

THE GOLDEN RULE is a universal creed. Everybody accepts it. Most people try to practice it.

Golden Rule Sunday is examination day—a day of plain living and high thinking; of self-measurement by the Golden Rule to see how big we really are.

Golden Rule Sunday comes midway between the feasts of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

On Thanksgiving Day we satisfy ourselves with good things. We survey our broad acres, bulging granaries, and busy factories. We reappraise our unprecedented and soaring wealth of more than three hundred billion dollars, far transcending anything previously or elsewhere known in all the world. Not least are we thankful for government under which life and property are safe. Truly no people ever had as great reason for gratitude as have we in America on Thanksgiving Day, 1925.

At Christmas we again indulge in feasting and mirth, and share some of our luxuries with relatives and friends, some of whom are sore perplexed to know where to store the gifts that we pour into their well provided homes.

But on Golden Rule Sunday we express our gratitude and practice "pure religion undefiled before God" in a more vital way by considering "the fatherless and widows in their affliction" who, as worthy as we, by the vicissitudes of war, are bereft of everything. They have no lands, no granaries, no bank accounts, no savings, no employment, no homes, no food, except as the Golden Rule proves a vital reality in their lives.

It is proposed that on Golden Rule

Sunday, all persons who are disposed to make a practical application of the Golden Rule, provide for their Sunday dinner approximately the same menu that is provided, when funds permit, by Near East Relief for the tens of thousands of orphaned children in its care, most of whom are under twelve years of age.

Having partaken of the orphanage meal and entered into fellowship with the children overseas, we are asked to make such provision for them for the 365 days of the year as we should like to have made for ourselves, or for our children, if conditions were reversed.

Golden Rule Sunday will be observed throughout the United States in December, on behalf of the Near East Relief. This series of articles, by prominent public men who are supporters and spokesmen for this great philanthropy, is designed to call public attention to the background and purpose of the work and its need for general support.

Defends Christmas Tree Street Decorations

To Editor Brainerd Dispatch, City.

I beg to send you weekly service bulletin issued by St. Cloud Credit Association of St. Cloud, defending new custom of using Christmas trees for street decorations. A. L. Hoffman, Secretary Business Men's Association.

The bulletin follows:
THANKS TO THE LEGION. Thanks to the American Legion St. Cloud will be a real Christmas city this year, to the greater joy of everybody. The story of what the Legion has done is well expressed—and the thanks of the community to the Legion are well expressed—in an editorial which appeared in the Journal Press on December 4th as follows:

"The local American Legion post has on many occasions given positive evidence of its helpful spirit. A year ago it conceived the idea of having the business streets properly decorated during the Christmas days, with evergreen trees, illuminated during the evening hours with electric lights. The experiment was so much of a success that the boys have decided to make it an annual event, and this year they have procured larger and handsomer trees and when these are given their decking, of colored lights will produce a beautiful effect.

"All that the merchants are asked is to see that the trees are properly decorated. Many contributed to this cost last year, and only those are expected to assist in this lighting this year who did not help a year ago. It is not expected there is a single merchant in the city who will not very willingly join in this Christmas spirit of making the business streets beautiful.

"The city commissioners are doing their full share and will provide the cost of the decorating of the large corner trees.

"Thanks, appreciation and co-operation are due the Legion boys for their good work. It is especially significant that they who went to war at the call of their government and of humanity, are the first to give a proper setting to the anniversary of the Prince of Peace.

"Merry Christmas to them all."

Secure Best Effect

To appear to their best advantage pictures should be hung so that the center of the picture will be on the level with the eye of a person standing.

Does Your Loud Speaker Say "Ess" or "Eth"

The usual garbling of sound by loud speakers is overcome by the new Grebe "Colortone"

THE sounds that come from the Synchronphase are independent of loud speaker control. The proper adaptation of speaker to set is no longer necessary for satisfactory reception.

By means of the Grebe "Colortone" you can vary, to your taste, the quality or timbre of voice or music from high, thin pitch to low, deep, round tones. You can also bring out low tones that would otherwise be inaudible, and eliminate, to a great degree, hissing sounds and the usual form of scratchy static—"S" sounds like "H" and "H" like "S". In the Synchronphase, artificiality of sound—the bane of radio reception—gives place to true, natural tones.

Add to this Grebe development, other exclusive Grebe features, and you get in the Synchronphase, radio reception unapproached in quality. Consider, for example: The "Selective Sensitivity" conferred by Grebe Binocular Coils.

One-dial operation. Because of the Flexible Unit Control, one dial operates two or all three dials (they can also be set separately).

Ease in accurate tuning by means of Grebe S-L-F Condensers on whose dials all stations have equal spacing.

Complete, continuous range of volume, without change in naturalness of sound through the Grebe Volume Control.

GOOD IN MINDING ONE'S OWN BUSINESS

Blessed Are Those Who Refrain From Meddling.

The other night I picked up a book of the writings of one of the uplifters. He is a sort of a journalistic shouter. A revivalist who does his work through the printed page. He told his readers what success is and how to attain it and how we all should be a little better and brighter and more earnest and helpful than we are—

Shucks! That stuff has just as much relation to ordinary human life as the vegetation on the crest of Mount Everest has to the climate in Missouri! He was too bright and good for human nature's daily food. He wanted his readers to go out and consciously exert an influence. They were all to be leaders in their community. They were to stand up bravely for the right and bear witness in the market place. More shucks! writes J. P. in the Kansas City Star.

Only now and then a Savonarola or a Luther or a Calvin or an Ignatius Loyola is born. They were great men. Great leaders. They had something to say and they were able to say it in a way that commanded—not merely demanded—the attention of their generation. Each age, each year, almost each day, produces such a man, who differs only in degree from the Luthers of yesterday. But you and I—John Pilgrim and John Smith—do not belong with them.

It does not seem desirable for me to tell my neighbor that he is going to ruin or to admonish his daughter or shake my head at his wife. Maybe I'm wrong, but it seems to me that if John Pilgrim and John Smith mind their own business and mind it well they are doing as much as the Supreme Power will demand. If we are always honest and always tell the truth. If we do not gossip and are not mean-spirited and always try to be fair. If we are kind to others and try to help and do not believe evil reports too easily. And if we refuse to be talked into the belief that black is white—

It seems to me that we will be doing a great deal more for our street than a good many of the leaders are doing. Some of the leaders, between us, do not lead. Unless a sounding board is the equivalent of a crusader.

Diver Had Lively Time

Fighting a lobster of huge proportions 90 feet below the surface of the North sea was the experience of a German diver, who was experimenting with below-seas radio broadcasting equipment. Listeners in Hamburg, 100 miles away; Bremen, Hanover and even in Berlin heard his account of this battle even while it was in progress, 90 feet below the surface of the North sea. The diver related how a big lobster swam toward him, and when he attempted to grab it the giant crustacean gave him battle with its great scissor-like claws, which seized his hand so forcibly that he felt an excruciating pain in spite of his thick rubber gloves. The diver also described an eel which he watched swallowing smaller fish. He saw swarms of fish, frightened, darting to and fro and looking like flocks of swallows.

Arab Proved Human Fish

On April 13, 1887, an Arab pearl diver remained under seven fathoms of water for 109 seconds.

Miniature Holy Land

One of the most unusual exhibits ever shown in Canada, and one that has attracted attention from one end of the Dominion to the other, is the display of a miniature Holy Land in Edmonton. This miniature was manufactured by Gandel brothers, two Sicilians, who worked for more than eleven years in their home in Edmonton on the exhibit. It includes 60,000, 000 pieces and has 900 moving figures. Biblical scenes in amazing detail are reproduced in miniature. The exhibit is to be shown throughout Canada and the United States.

Progressive German City

The celebrated old university town of Heidelberg has set the pace among German cities in its efforts to solve housing conditions. During the last three years the city has erected 1,500 municipally-owned houses and has provided an additional 1,000 single rooms by partitioning off garrets. The houses have been constructed almost without exception on the quadrangle plan, with the interior square made into park and playground. Each quadrangle accommodates from fifteen to twenty-five families.

Favor Light Garb

In spite of the general criticism of the dress of the modern woman there are many doctors who advocate it on the score of health. Dr. Leonard Hill, member of the British Institute of Medical Research, blames many ills of his sex on the tight collars, tight belts, long trousers and heavy coats that men wear, declaring that women obtain more of the health-giving ultra-violet rays by their use of low-neck blouses, short skirts and thin stockings.

Snake Fares Well in Japan

While laborers were at work in the grounds of the Imperial palace in Tokyo, they came across a live snake, so large that they first believed it was a log and started to move it. The reptile came to life and the workmen scattered. However, they could have done nothing anyway, as the court officials ordered that the crawler not be needlessly disturbed and they emphatically declared there would be no snake hunt. The snake, Japanese believe, is the spirit of the ancient fortress that was once on the site where it was found, and if let alone will harm no one.

The Navajo

The leading tribe of the southern division of the Athapascan stock of North American Indians was the Navajo or Tennial, which was the name used by themselves. Since first known they have occupied the land on and south of the San Juan river, in northern New Mexico and Arizona, and extending into the states of Colorado and Utah. They were surrounded on all sides by the cognate Apache tribes, except on the north, where they met the tribes of the Schoshonean family. At present the Navajo are on the reservation bearing their name in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

New Egg-Drying Process

Chemical advance has now developed a process, already in commercial use, whereby large numbers of eggs can be kept for indefinite periods without the use of cold storage or preservatives, and which, it is said, will have a material effect upon the seasonal egg markets of the country. The new process produces perfectly dried eggs in the form of a powder. They will keep indefinitely and can be used for almost any form of cooking.

Tagging the Trees

A western dealer furnishes red tags to hunters which carry on one side a plea for clean sportsmanship, says Good Housekeeping.

These tags are taken out by hunters and tied on the trees. The reverse side may be used by the hunter on which to write a message.

If the hunter is to meet a friend in the woods, and game lures him away from the spot, he leaves a red tag making new plans for the meeting.

The farmers, too, appreciate the message which the card carries in the interest of their fences and woods.

Lithuanian Amber

Lithuania produces more than three-fourths of the world's amber. Every bride has her bit of amber, every newborn child receives a piece, and its presence in every household shows the ancestry attached to it.

Marriage in Siberia is only a matter of taking out a license to wed; divorce is equally easy.

MOOSEHEART

The children at Mooseheart are organized into one large, happy family; an aggregation of children who know each other, like each other, work and play, and live a common life.

The children are admitted from birth, and in some instances the mother, whose husband has passed away, has gone to Mooseheart and given birth to her child.

The children remain at Mooseheart until they have received a high school education and a trade, before they go out into the world in competition with others.

These children are never "farmed out." The families are kept together until after graduation.

Every child must graduate in some trade or vocation.

Every child has a bank account in the "Students' Bank," operated solely for the education and instruction of the students, and all bills are paid by check.

The children are governed by the laws of the Assembly, a self-governing body of which each student is a member. The actions of the Assembly are guided and supervised by the Superintendent.

One thing in particular in which Mooseheart differs from all other institutions in the world is its success in the training, development and government of the children, notwithstanding that more than twelve hundred are housed in one village in small family groups, each having its own kitchen, dining-room and general family life. Eventually Mooseheart, with its beautiful lake and bordered by the Fox River and Lincoln Highway, has the prospect of developing into a city of 5,000 children living on 5,000 acres of the richest soil of the Illinois prairie.

Corporal punishment is not tolerated at Mooseheart. If a child is found guilty of a misdemeanor sufficiently serious to warrant punishment, he or she is reprimanded and denied some of the pleasures for a specific length of time, according to nature of the misdemeanor.

Certain members of the Order have subscribed to a "Revolving Fund" for the benefit of those students who desire to continue their education by availing themselves of a college or university course after they have completed their training at Mooseheart. The money is loaned to these students out of the "Revolving Fund" and paid back at the convenience of the student.

BACK AGAIN TO USING RESIN ON THE BALL

SUGGESTION IS MADE BY NATIONAL LEAGUE HEADS

JOHN HEYDLER SAYS TOO MANY
BALLS ARE POUNDED OVER
FENCE

345 DOZEN MORE BALLS USED
LAST YEAR MORE THAN
IN 1924

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Dec. 9. — Suggestion made by the National League that pitchers be allowed to use resin on the ball will find opposition at the annual meeting of the American League club owners here today.

The National League asked Commissioner Landis to call a meeting of the joint rules committee in February to consider an alteration of the restrictions on pitching, shortening of the playing season and other minor matters.

Several of the American League magnates said today that they were against any change in the pitching rules.

"Is the National League afraid of losing a few balls?" Bobby Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox, asked. "If pitchers are allowed to use resin, even under the supervision of umpires, they will start using other foreign substances and the whole rule would be useless."

Heavy consumption of balls in recent years may have had something to do with the change of attitude by the National League owners as John Heydler, president of the league, stressed that there were 345 dozen balls used last year more than in 1925; 1,520 dozen more than in 1920 and 2,700 dozen more than in 1915.

The National League owners did very little business at their session yesterday and the meeting will close today with memorial services for a large number of prominent baseball men who died during the past season.

The American League owners have little of importance on the program for their meeting. It is understood that they will approve a shorter playing season and will suggest a rule preventing encroachments on the playing field during the world's series games.

Some change in the rule covering playoff games stopped by rain may also be considered. Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club, has suggested that games be played off from the point where they were stopped.

No deals of importance are expected to be completed. Connie Mack announced that he had signed Kid Gleason, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, as a coach and assistant manager. Gleason was in retirement for two years because of poor health.

Officials of the New York Yankees said that several trades were being considered but that nothing definite was under way.

The owners of the two leagues will meet in joint session here tomorrow with Commissioner Landis.

Term of Opprobrium

The term Yankee, according to Benbaugh, is not Indian, but Dutch, and means to snarl and quarrel. It was applied by the burghers of New Amsterdam to the invaders from Connecticut.

RADIOLAS 20, STEWART CHURCH 15 IN BASKETBALL

ERICSSON, HEIKKINEN AND BOL- LENS BIG OFFENSIVE TRIO

The Radiolas defeated the Stewart church team of Minneapolis on Saturday night at the high school gymnasium, by a score of 20-15, and kept their slate clean, not yet having lost a game, either practice or scheduled game, this year.

Ericsson, Heikkinen and Bollens were the big offensive trio for the Radiolas, the first two each netting three baskets, and Bollens two. Otto Heikkinen came up to put in a long shot in the second quarter. Heikkinen and Fitzsimmons kept the Minneapolis forwards worried with their close guarding. As a whole the team played in improved style over their other contests.

For the Stewarts of Minneapolis, Oliver and Gale were the stars. Both of these men are letter men from Central High School in Minneapolis. Oliver was the big scorer, with four field goals. He is about the fastest floor man seen here in many days. Gale was the center of the defense, and seemed to be all over the floor. Boechmann, who went in for Wahlberg at center in the last quarter, did some fine playing.

The fairly large crowd of fans attending the game were pleased with the contest and with the way in which Peterson officiated.

The Freshman Heart-Breakers broke the heart of the Hi-Y club team by a lop-sided victory, 22-4. The Heart-Breakers had a perfect offense, with Swanson, Wise and Aro working smoothly as a machine, while Heikkinen and Gabiou held the opposition offense down to two baskets, both by Viken.

Swanson was going great guns, with seven baskets. Aro made one and Wise two and two free throws. It was pretty to see the passing of the Freshmen, with a marvelous ease in slipping through the defense of the Hi-Y men. Lawyer of the Hi-Y team added to the fun of the evening by scoring a basket for the Freshmen. He got mixed up at the start of the second half, and dribbled down the wrong way, without being stopped. Koop refereed the game. Line-ups were: Freshmen, Wise and Aro, forwards; Swanson, center; Heikkinen and Gabiou, guards; Boyd, sub. Hi-Y Club: Lorenz and Mayo, forwards; Viken, center; Lawyer and Rosina, guards; Viken and O'Brien, subs.

The Radiolas will go to Aitkin on Thursday night to play the fast Co. B team of that city. The Brainerd players will have to travel at top speed to keep their string of victories unbroken. Several local fans are planning to follow the team for the game. It is hoped that arrangements for a return game may be made, as the Aitkin Co. B team is one of the greatest drawing cards in this region.

A pledge of fair dealing

The strongest pledge of friendship and fair dealing known to the early Norsemen was the simple act of one man placing his hand between the hands of another. Ruthless, terrible and cruel as the Vikings were, no man broke this pledge without forfeiting his honor and the friendship of every true man.

Today modern business forms friends in every corner of the world through the pledge of the printed word. Advertisements are pledges made especially for you . . . pledges that advertised goods you buy are exactly as claimed.

No sane business man would advertise an unworthy product. Nothing could bring ruin more quickly. For when a product is advertised, it invites the criticism of millions of people. It must make good its claims, or it forfeits the patronage of thousands.

A product that is not advertised may be worth buying. But it is little known and its merit or unworthiness lies hid in comparative security. Every product you see advertised must be worthy. It is tested daily by thousands. It is proved in the pitiless glare of publicity—pledged to you in the advertising columns regularly.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE PLANS

JUNIOR AND INTERMEDIATE ASSOCIATIONS ARE FORMED

JUNIOR AGE LIMIT 13 YEARS, INTERMEDIATE LIMIT 16 YEARS

Representatives from several Sunday schools met on Monday night to prepare plans for a Sunday school basketball league. As a result of the meeting, two leagues were decided upon, one a Junior league, to take in boys up to and including thirteen years of age, and an Intermediate league, for boys up to and including sixteen years of age.

Already six churches have indicated a desire to enter the Junior league, the churches being the Bethlehem Lutheran, Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist, Bethlehem Evangelical and Zion Evangelical. Five churches have decided to enter teams in the Intermediate division, the Presbyterian, Methodist, First Baptist, Swedish Baptist and Zion Evangelical. Other churches will undoubtedly enter later. The league is open to any Sunday school desiring to play.

To avoid the possibility of boys shifting from one Sunday school to another for purposes of playing basketball it was decided that a boy who was on Dec. 7th a member of any Sunday school may not play with another school's team even by changing his membership to that school. Boys who are not now members of any school may become eligible to play by beginning attending the Sunday school. It was decided that a boy must be a regular attendant of a Sunday school to represent it, and that if he misses attendance two Sundays in succession, he is ineligible until he starts attending again.

Play will start about January 4th, and all games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, in the early evening, perhaps at seven o'clock. No admission will be charged for any of these games. Schedules for both leagues will be published as soon as all churches desiring to enter have notified to that effect. Those who have not yet indicated a desire to enter, and wish to do so, may get other details from Alfred Dillan at the Y. M. C. A., telephone 294.

Some interest is also expressed in a Senior league. If enough churches wish to enter, a Senior league will be formed. To date four churches are lined up for Senior teams. Suitable banners will be awarded the champions of each league.

CRITICIZES THE HIGH SCHOOL

Theodore Utne, Director High School Department, Says Building is Inadequate

LETTER READ AT BOARD SESSION

Schools of City to Close For Holiday Vacation, Dec. 18, Re-opening January 4

The school board held its regular meeting Monday evening with all members present except F. M. Hagberg and Fred Drexler.

A committee from the Fourth ward Parent-Teachers' association appeared before the board and asked assistance in financing repairs to the playground equipment, stating that the park board at the present time had no funds with which to carry on this work. They also asked for a cupboard in which to store dishes in the basement and a stove to be used for cooking purposes. These matters were referred to the building committee.

A communication under date of November 23rd from Theodore Utne, director of high school department addressed to Louis F. Hohman, clerk of the school board, was read which is as follows:

"Mr. Flynn and I visited your school October 12th. I regret to state that we did not find the school in satisfactory condition. We did not observe the work in the grade buildings, but we find your high school building inadequate, filled to overflowing and in such condition as to be a menace to the safety and morality of your pupils. It is unfortunate that the recent bond issue failed to carry. There is no other city in the state of Minnesota the size of Brainerd with as poor school facilities as are to be found in your city. We hope that for the sake of your boys and girls it may be possible in the near future for your community to provide better school facilities."

After considerable discussion relative to the communication, a motion was carried that the communication be received and placed on file, and that Supt. Cobb be asked to acknowledge receipt of the same.

A communication was read from J. H. Krekeberg of this city in which he offered for sale to the Brainerd school district the Kylo property on South Fifth street. No action was taken by the board and discussion of the matter was continued until the next meeting.

The schools of the city will close for the holiday vacation on December 18th and re-open on January 4.

The report of the building committee was read, after which the building committee was directed to install an additional cloak and hat rack in the high school; to purchase a gymnasium mat for use by the girls in gymnasium work; to provide court board in the Lowell school and to provide platforms in the auditorium of the different grade buildings to be used for programs, etc. The committee, on motion, was directed to solicit bids for 20 additional large electric light fixtures. The committee also reported that Mr. Johnson, janitor of the Harrison building was taken ill last Saturday necessitating putting Charles Varner in his place. Supt. Cobb was authorized to purchase a Beck duplicator on approval.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes and Supt. Cobb were asked to make arrangements for the sale of Christmas seals this year. Heretofore, that matter has been handled by all the teachers of the different buildings and it has become quite annoying, each teacher having to keep a check on all penny seals given to each individual and the principal keeping check of each building. Owing to the fact that the sale of these seals comes at the same time as the close of the first semester, it was thought advisable to formulate a plan whereby some other person outside the teacher could handle these seals.

In addition to the written report presented by the health and sanitation committee, R. W. Crust, chairman gave a part verbal report relative to a two or three-day clinic on corrective speech they would like to hold during this month which would be conducted by a specialist from the state university. This specialist can be obtained only two or three days during the month of December. The committee was authorized to hold this clinic. Miss Oerting, English teacher is so interested in this work that she offered to help defray the expense of this clinic by taking some of the money raised by her class party entertainments. However, the board decided to pay the expenses themselves.

The attendance at the evening citizenship classes this year now

number 30 pupils and they meet regularly Tuesday and Thursday evening of each week. The classes are in charge of Miss Hjerpe and Miss Vanasek.

The treasurer submitted his report for the quarter ending October 31st. The reports were received and referred to the finance committee for checking.

After allowing claims and accounts, on motion, the board adjourned.

Time was when merely to be out in the forest on such a day would have pleased him, but gone entirely there came now an irritation at the physical discomfort it entailed. He soon began to perspire freely, too freely; nevertheless, there was no glow to his body; he could think only of easy-chairs and warm stoves. He wondered what ailed him. Nothing could be more abhorrent than this, he told himself. Health was a valuable thing, no doubt, and he had that pleasure, and in its place agreed that no price was too high to pay for it—no price, perhaps, except dull, uninteresting exercise of this sort. He was upon the point of turning back when the trail suddenly broke out into a natural clearing and he saw something which challenged his attention.

To the left of the path rose a steep bank, and beyond that the bare, sloping mountain-side. In the shelter of the bank the snow had drifted deep, but oddly enough, its placid surface was churned up, as if from an explosion or some desperate conflict that had been lately waged. It had been tossed up and thrown down. What caused him to stare was the fact that no footprints were discernible—nothing except queer, wavering parallel streaks that led downward from the snowy turmoil to the level ground below. They resembled the tracks of some oddly fashioned sled.

Pierce halted and with bent head was studying the phenomenon, when close above him he heard the rush of a swiftly approaching body; he looked up just in time to behold an apparition utterly unexpected, utterly astounding. Swooping directly down upon him with incredible velocity was what seemed at first glance to be a bird—woman, a Valkyrie out of the pages of Norse mythology. Wingless she was, yet she came like the wind, and at the very instant Pierce raised his eyes she took the air almost over his head—quite as if he had startled her into an upward flight. Upon her feet was a pair of long, Norwegian skis, and upon these she had scudded down the mountain-side; where the bank dropped away she had leaped, and now, like a meteor, she soared into space. This amazing creature was clad in a blue-and-white toboggan suit, short skirt, sweater jacket, and knitted cap. As she hung outlined against the wintry sky Pierce caught a snap-shot glimpse of a fair, flushed, youthful face set in a ludicrous expression of open-mouthed dismay at sight of him. He heard, too, a high-pitched cry, half of warning, half of fright; the next instant there was a mighty upheaval of snow, an explosion of feathery white, as the human projectile landed, then a blur of blue-and-white stripes as it went rolling down the declivity.

"Good Lord!" Pierce cried, aghast, then he sped after the apparition. Only for the evidence of that undignified tumble, he would have doubted the reality of this flying Venus and considered her some creature of his imagination. There she lay, however, a thing of flesh and blood, bruised, broken, helpless; apprehensively he pictured himself staggering back to town with her in his arms.

He halted speechless, when the girl sat up, shook the snow out of her hair, gingerly felt one elbow, then the other, and finally burst into a peal of ringing laughter. The face she lifted to his, now that it wore a normal expression, was wholly charming; it was, in fact, about the freshest, the cleanest, the healthiest and the frankest countenance he had ever looked into.

"Glory be!" he stammered. "I thought you were—completely spoiled."

"I'm badly twisted," the girl managed to gasp, "but I guess I'm all here. Oh! What a bump!"

"You scared me, I never dreamed—I didn't hear a thing until—Well, I looked up and there you were. The sky was full of you. Gee! I thought I'd lost my mind. Are you quite sure you're all right?"

"Oh, I'll be black and blue again, but I'm used to that. That's the funniest one I've had, the very funniest. Why don't you laugh?"

"I'm too rattled, I suppose. I'm not accustomed to flying girls. Never had them rain down on me out of the heavens."

The girl's face grew sober. "You're entirely to blame," she cried angrily. "I was getting it beautifully until you showed up. You popped right out of the ground. What are you doing in the Queen's Park, anyhow? You've no business at the royal sports."

"I didn't mean to trespass," "I think I'll call the guards."

"Call the court physician and make sure—"

"Pshaw! I'm not hurt." Ignoring his extended hand, she scrambled to her feet and brushed herself again. Evidently the queenly anger was short-lived, for she was beaming again, and in a tone that was boyishly intimate she explained:

"I'd made three dandy jumps and was going higher each time, but the sight of you upset me. Think of being upset by a perfectly strange man. Shows lack of social training, doesn't it? It's a wonder I didn't break a skee."

NOTICE—"Winds of Chance" will be shown at the New Park this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. 16014

"Lovers In Quarantine" At The Lyceum

Bebe Daniels' newest Paramount starring production "Lovers in Quarantine," now showing at the Lyceum is an unusual picture—unusual because it is one of the few screen versions of famous Broadway stage successes to come up to the legitimate play for entertainment. And "Lovers in Quarantine," adapted by Townsend Martin and Luther Reed from F. Tennyson Jesse's New York hit, "Quarantine," goes even further than that—it suppresses the stage play for fast-moving action, thrills and laughs.

Big Cast Supports Corinne Griffith

A cast not great in numbers, but excellent in names. That is the term that might be exercised when presenting Corinne Griffith in "The Marriage Whirl," showing at the Lyceum on Thursday and Friday.

To begin with, the fair Corinne was not content with one leading man. She has two—Kenneth Harlan and Harrison Ford. Nita Naldi will also be seen in an important role.

New York, Dec. 9.—Continuation of relative high call money and the feeling in speculative quarters that the market had temporarily discontinued the constructive factors in the economic situation were responsible for a heavy selling movement on the stock exchange today.

In view of the absence of aggressive opposition professionals were successful in marking down prices substantially in the principal speculative stocks. Selling gathered momentum as the decline proceeded and new low levels on the reaction were reached in the late afternoon.

Business news continued favorable with reports from steel centers, particularly Pittsburgh.

The market closed lower.
